

FOUR GUNMEN PAY PENALTY OF DEATH

By Associated Press.

Sing Sing, Ossining, April 13.—The four gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal died in the electric chair at Sing Sing at dawn today. None confessed and none mentioned the name of Charles A. Becker who was found guilty of instigating the murder, but saved by the Circuit Court of Appeals reversal.

Of the four who died, Frank Seidenschner (Whitie Louis) made the only statement. Even he did not flatly admit his innocence. "Gentlemen," he mumbled, when being strapped in the chair, "I did not shoot at Rosenthal. The men who said I did are perjurers. For the sake of Justice I say I didn't. Stannish—"

Seidenschner did not finish the sentence for just at that time the current was turned on. What he meant to say was that the waiter-witness Stannish had lied, but death intervened. He was the second to die. Dago Frank Cirofici was the first, Gyp the Blood (Harry Horowitz) was the third and Leftie Louie (Louis Rosenberg) was fourth. In forty minutes all were dispatched. All walked quietly to the chair and only their quaking knees and ashen pallor of their faces attested their realization that death was upon them.

William E. Cashin, Roman Catholic chaplain, accompanied Dago Frank to the chair. With Whitie Louis and Gyp the Blood was Rabbi Goldstein of New York. Rabbi Coxstein, long the spiritual advisor of the Rosenberg family, stood by Leftie Louie.

"Gentlemen," said Rabbi Goldstein, as he left the death chamber, "whether the Jewish boys were guilty or not, I will say I do not know. They did not confess to me. As for the Italian I do not believe he was in the crime. I do not think any of them should have been convicted on the testimony submitted."

The execution took place just at dawn. Many were admitted to the bare court yards where they stood trembling with ashen faces. Warden Clancey had announced that Gyp the Blood would die first, then Leftie Louie, Dago Frank and Whitie Louis, but the man who died first was Dago Frank. He showed signs of collapsing and it was deemed expedient to shield him from the ordeal of waiting. Those admitted to witness the execution were told under no circumstances should they ask questions of the men.

Corofici came in clutching a crucifix in both hands and had to be supported. "Oh God, I meet my God," said the doomed man as the current was turned on. He showed little resistance to the current, which registered 1920 volts and between 9 and 10 amperes. Of the four men he died the easiest. He had intended to make a statement but his mental faculties failed him.

Whitie Louis came in dressed in a black suit, as was Dago Frank. The statement which he never finished was on his lips as he entered. At 5:56 Gyp the Blood came in. He had a Jewish prayer book in his hands and Rabbi Goldstein was by his side. "Listen, Isreal, there is only one God," mumbled Gyp in Hebrew.

Leftie Louie, last to die, was the keenest sufferer by reason of waiting. He entered the chamber at 6:07. Like Gyp he held a prayer book in Hebrew. The first contact was at 6:08 and at 6:17 he was pronounced dead.

Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—The last avenue of hope for the four gunmen was closed six days before their execution when Governor Glynn refused to grant a stay, pending the second trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker, who was convicted in the lower courts of having plotted the murder of Herman Rosenthal to prevent him from making graft revelations to District Attorney Whitman. The Court of Appeals, in reversing the decision for Becker, declared itself unconvinced that he had directed the murder, but upheld the judgment of the lower court that the four gunmen had been the instruments. Motions for a new trial, on the ground of new evidence, made by their attorneys, were denied, and they were sentenced to die during the week beginning April 13.

Four days before their execution a delegation of New York rabbis visited Governor Glynn and pleaded in vain with him to postpone the execution until after the second trial of Becker. The Governor remained fixed in the opinion that he had already expressed—that Becker's guilt or innocence could in no way affect the guilt of the gunmen who had been judged guilty by two courts.

The real names of the men who have been known as "Gyp the Blood," "Leftie Louie," "Dago Frank," and "Whitie Louis," were Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Cirofici and Frank Seidenschner. The youngest, Leftie Louie, was 21, the oldest, Dago Frank, 27. All were Jews except Dago Frank, as the nickname implies, he was an Italian. Gyp the Blood and Leftie Louie were married. Their young widows survive them.

Not only during the trial but in statements given out at Sing Sing, three of the gunmen persisted in the declaration that Dago Frank had not been present at the time of the murder, and was not in any way concerned in the plot to murder Rosenthal. During their stay in the Death House all four maintained an attitude of martyrlike innocence, tempered with an optimism growing out of their belief that their fate hinged upon Becker's and that if he were not guilty, they must be set free. The news crushing hopes of this nature as announced by the warden was received with stoical calmness.

The crime for which the four gunmen paid the death penalty started a wave of police reform, from which the ripples have not yet subsided. Throughout the revelations made at the time and subsequently, stalked the vague, sinister monster known as the "police system."

Rosenthal was shot down early on the morning of July 16, 1912, in front of the Hotel Metropole in the heart of the Tenderloin. On receiving an announcement from a man who came into the hotel, he walked out and fell dead before a fusillade of

CONFESSED?

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Some of the gunmen are believed to have confessed before they died. Supt. Riley of the big prison, said that statements would arrive from Ossining today, which show that "no injustice has been done by the execution."

Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—It was reported here this afternoon that "Dago Frank" Cirofici, before being put to death, made a confession to Father Cashin, in which he admitted justice had been done.

Dago Frank stated that while he was not present, Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg and Harry Vallon did the shooting.

It is further reported that Dago Frank said that none of the gunmen had known previous to the shooting that Lieutenant Becker was concerned. The confession is said to have been signed by Dago Frank.

BATTLE AT SAN PEDRO

By Associated Press.

Torreón by El Paso, April 13.—Heavy fighting was in progress at San Pedro yesterday, the Federals having retaken the place two days previously. It is reported also that the Federals with 3000 men, believing this city to be lightly garrisoned are on their way to recapture Torreón. A surprise awaits them, for when General Velasco he left 5000 men here. General Villa with several train loads of reinforcements under his command attacked the town yesterday and a fierce battle ensued. A train load of Rebel wounded and 365 Federal prisoners arrived here today. The dispatch shows evidence of the work of the censor.

WILSON DEFENDS REPEAL

Washington, D. C., April 13.—President Wilson declared today that the repeal of the Panama Toll Exemptions could not be regarded as an interpretation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, because it is a legislative act. He also held that no amendment setting forth the rights of the United States under the treaty is necessary, in his opinion. Mr. Wilson took the same view held by Mr. Bryan that in repealing the exemptions the United States showed a disinclination to raise the question of discrimination, but did not limit any future policy of the government. The President said the tolls situation in the Senate is constantly improving and that apparently people who had been asked to appear in the hearing "were getting cold feet."

MUST FACE TRIAL

Columbus, O., April 13.—Judge A. B. Dillon of the Common Pleas court today overruled a motion of the attorneys for the four Democratic officials to quash the indictments against them for violation of the civil service law.

The four must now stand trial.

INSISTING ON THE APOLOGY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—President Wilson told callers today that a salute would be fired to the American flag by the Federals at Tampico as an apology for the recent arrest of American marines. He spoke with such confidence that his hearers took his words to imply that the point would be insisted upon. President Wilson has already approved Rear Admiral Mayo's demand for a salute as an apology.

PUTTING TEETH IN LEGISLATION

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 13.—President Wilson, Chairman Clayton and Representatives Floyd and Carlin, of the House Judiciary Committee, after a conference today, agreed to consolidate into one measure the main features of the Sherman law definitions bill and the bill to prohibit interlocking directorates in holding companies.

The President agreed to the insertion of the principles embodied in the two measures which passed the house last year, providing for the regulation of injunctions in labor cases and trial by jury.

DOUBLE KILLING IS MYSTERIOUS

By Associated Press.

Somerset, Pa., April 13.—John and Joseph D'Angelo, cousins, were shot and killed and Mrs. Frank D'Angelo, Joe's mother, was dangerously wounded at Boswell early today. The woman was awakened by shooting and hurrying to the rear of the house fell over the dead bodies of the boys. She stopped to lift them when a fusillade of shots came from the darkness. She crawled to the kitchen and gave the alarm. Seven have been arrested, five of them blood relatives of the family. The police have no motive for the assassination.

ASKS REVIEW

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 13.—The Hocking Valley R. R. Co. and Sunday Creek company today asked the Supreme court to review their conflict in the Federal courts of Ohio, for violation of the Interstate commerce laws against discriminations.

BRYAN IN CANAL TOLLS CONTEST

Washington, April 13.—Secretary Bryan has thrown himself in the canal tolls fight, and by doing so has raised another issue. He charges in effect that the tolls exemption plank in the Baltimore platform was inserted through subterfuge, without the convention realizing the full meaning of the declaration.

Secretary Bryan also justifies the repudiation of the tolls exemption plank because it is in contradiction of another plank in the same platform against direct or indirect ship subsidies. The latter he describes as the larger plank of the two.

Mr. Bryan was a member of the resolutions committee of the Baltimore convention.

Mr. Bryan said in part: "A platform is a pledge and is binding upon an official as the command of a military officer is upon a subordinate—the statement can not be made stronger. But the subordinate officer is sometimes compelled to act upon his judgment where a change of which the commanding officer is not aware has taken place in conditions."

"The president, knowing that every commercial nation except our own construes the treaty as a pledge of equal treatment, would have been reluctant to his trust had he failed to point out to the American people that our diplomatic relations would be seriously disturbed by the carrying out of the free tolls policy."

"What has Great Britain done to justify the accusation that she is trying to dictate to this country? She has simply called attention to the terms of the treaty and asked 'or arbitration of the question of construction in case this government differs from the British government in the construction to be placed upon the language."

"In the controversy over the Welland canal Canada withdrew a discrimination which she had made in favor of Canadian ships in order that no cause for friction with the United States authorities in regard to the matter should exist.

"Why can not the United States withdraw a discrimination for the same reason? The 'surrender to England' argument is being used now just as it has been used in the past and for the benefit of the same selfish interests, but now that the people have secured tariff reduction they can no longer be frightened by this subterfuge."

Cites Two Questions.

"When we come to consider the repeal measure upon its merits there are just two questions to be decided: 'First, is it desirable for the Democratic party to abandon its historic position and become the advocate of subsidies and bounties, and second, if it is desirable, what is the Democratic party willing to sacrifice in international prestige and in world influence in order to secure the advantage which these subsidies promise to a few people?'"

"No party can afford to adopt a principle without considering how far the principle extends or what its adoption involves. In the past the Democratic party has been able to consistently oppose every form of governmental favor because it has stood for equal rights to all and special privilege to none."

"The chief executive speaks for the nation in international affairs, and it is only fair to assume that he speaks advisedly when he declares that intercourse with other nations is seriously embarrassed by the free tolls law which he seeks to repeal."

"If our nation desires to be measured by intellect and ethical standards how unworthy to brag of our strength and to threaten to use that strength. 'We are ready to fight' does not arouse the enthusiasm that it did a few centuries ago. Brute force is not the level upon which this nation settles its controversies today; the question is not what we can do but what we ought to do."

INDICTED FOR CONSPIRACY

By Associated Press.

Houghton, Mich., April 13.—Chas. H. Moyer and 37 other officers and members of the Western Federation of Miners, must stand trial under indictments charging them with conspiracy in the copper mine strike.

A motion to quash the indictments was denied by Judge O'Brien.

SECOND TRIAL

By Associated Press.

New York, April 13.—The second trial of Chas. Becker, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will begin May 4th.

RELATIVES WILL CLAIM BODIES

By Associated Press.

Sing Sing, Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—The only relatives of the gunmen in the prison at the time of the execution were Dago Frank's mother, sister and brothers and Whitie Louis' brothers. Mrs. Cirofici was carried to a carriage in a state of collapse an hour afterward. All the bodies will be claimed by relatives.

Mrs. Cirofici remained with her son as late as 4:00 a. m. She pleaded with him to confess, but he said he had told all he knew and that he had not been present at the killing of Rosenthal.

GRAVE PROBLEMS ARE FACED BY THE CHINESE

By Associated Press.

Peking, April 13.—That Yuan Shikai's government is faced with a serious financial crisis is the opinion of a substantial body of foreigners in Peking and the Treaty Ports of China. These men predict foreign financial control or a foreign public debt commission. The difficulty of the situation is that the President and his supporters are, up to the present, unable to obtain money from the provinces for the administrative requirements of the central government. A letter to the President from the Tuhuh military governor of Hunan, accompanying a remittance of $200,000, contains an interesting statement of the case from a practical Chinese point of view. Tang Hsiang-ming, the Tuhuh, says:

"Of late the country has been in a turmoil of civil strife and frontier trouble, and scarcely a day has passed without some military operations. After your Excellency suppressed the internal troubles and made peaceful settlement with the Powers, the first thing that attracted your attention was the financial administration. Foreign loans have been resorted to to relieve the country's financial embarrassment, but owing to the fact that the terms of the foreign syndicates were too harsh, some patriotic people have suggested ways of collecting taxes while others propose a retrenchment policy. But all these specious words and theories can do no real good to the country.

"During this critical period there seems to be hardly any remedy for the country's financial troubles. When I read the documents from the Central Government stating its financial difficulties and the orders of your Excellency, I give vent to my grief in sobs and tears, like everyone else who has the sense of patriotism.

"We are in duty bound to relieve the embarrassment of the government. If the provinces do not help, national bankruptcy will result and the nation will lose its independence. And if the nation is obliterated, how could the province of Hunan exist alone? I hereby remit the sum of $400,000 (Mexican) to the government.

"It would be born in mind that the financial condition of Hunan is quite different from that of other provinces. It would be easy for other provinces to raise double the amount. Our remittance, though not large, is sufficient to display our patriotism and anxiety for the solution.

(Signed) Tang Hsiang-ming.

This gift, as it might be called, from the province of Hunan, small as it is, is exceptional. As a rule little or nothing can be got from the provinces; they are, on the contrary, continually calling upon the central government for assistance, the Tuhuh threatening that rebellion, or brigandage and looting that will implicate the government with foreigners, will result unless the assistance is forthcoming.

The President and his supporters, by employing the army, succeeded in suppressing the rebellion of last summer; but they have not been able to stamp out the elements of disorder. Indeed, in order to do this they would have to abolish the army itself—a mercenary situation, as the frontier fighting and the recent rebellions have shown, lacking discipline and not yet developed above the idea that the privilege of soldiers is the right to plunder. Yet the President has not the power to disband several hundred thousand men in arms.

In desperation the government is now endeavoring to obtain another large loan from the Quintuple Group of Bankers, composed of French, German, British, Japanese and Russian banks, supported by their respective governments. It will be remembered that last year's 25,000,000 pound loan was the cause of a considerable outbreak among Parliamentary members against Yuan Shikai and was one of the prominent causes of the rebellion of last summer. Feeling that Yuan's government is too disorganized and unstable to trust with another large loan, the Quintuple Legations are requiring the banks to stipulate what amounts to foreign control of China's finances for a period of, it is stated, fifty years, as a condition of any further extensive borrowing.

Up to the present the government has refused this condition and is getting along as best it can with small loans at high interest, parts of which are sometimes taken out in arms, ammunition and other necessities of the ministries. Sometimes railway and other concessions are granted for such uncontrolled loans. But it is believed that the day of reckoning will soon arrive.

ITALIAN WOMEN ARE UP IN ARMS

By Associated Press.

Rome, April 13.—With the passing of the Giolitti Cabinet the leaders of the feminist movement in Italy have taken up a new campaign, in the hope that the new ministers of the government will deal more favorably with their cause.

There is no militant element in the feminist movement of Italy, and no sex-antagonism, but women are anxious to free themselves from certain restrictions which the laws of the land and the customs of society have imposed. Originally designed for the protection of women, it is declared these laws are now a burden. The vote is the woman's ultimate goal but at present they are hoping particularly for the opening of the professions to them and the repeal of such laws as those prohibiting a married woman from opening a bank account without the consent of her husband.

The theory that feminine beauty cannot be divided into types according to nationality but that it is absolutely international in character will be demonstrated by a special exhibit of paintings by Angiada, the Spanish master, at the coming Exhibition of Fine Arts at Venice.

He has been honored with an invitation to show his pictures in a separate room, and the exhibit will be composed entirely of feminine portraits.

Within two years it is expected that the pavilions of the different countries around the Central Palace of the Venice group of art buildings will be completed by the addition of those of Germany, Austria and the United States on the island of Sant Elena, which will be connected with the gardens of the Exhibition by three beautiful bridges.

CAPTAIN YOUNG ASKS FOR JUSTICE

The action of the grand jury in ignoring the case against W. T. Strobel, who was up on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and who pleaded guilty to the same in police court, has made the railroad policemen especially very much put out. Captain Young, superintendent of police for the B. & O. S. W., said this morning:

"I do not think it is right for the grand jury to so arbitrarily act in the manner in which it did in this case, and some others where the law was plainly violated. The law against carrying concealed weapons now in Ohio makes that act a felony and, of course, the defendant must be bound over to the grand jury for final action. But the grand jury really has no province, so far as I see, of setting the law aside in a case as plain as that of Strobel. He was arrested and brought to police headquarters and was found to have a modern big quick action revolver strapped on him. We policemen are required to give bond in the sum of $100 for the privilege of carrying a revolver to protect our lives in the pursuit of our duty, and these are the kind of men we bump into, and any one of them may at any time take a notion to puncture one of us with a bullet, yet when they are arrested and found to be walking arsenals, plainly in defiance of the law, which provides a penitentiary sentence, the grand jury ignores the case.

"The law was passed in Ohio to discourage this very practice of totting pistols, and the courts are minimizing the offense, which results in the law really becoming a dead letter.

"It is from such men as these who carry revolvers that half of the other crimes come from, murder, assault, shooting with intent to kill, etc. If the penalty was enforced for gun totting, the practice would soon become unpopular and the gun totter would be a rara avis."—Scioto Gazette.

THEN AND NOW

By Associated Press.

THEN.

Ninety-six years ago today, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the first United States flag of the present design was hoisted over the House of Representatives at Washington.

It had twenty stars and thirteen stripes. The flag had been made in New York by the wife of Captain S. O. Reid, famous as the commander of the privateer General Armstrong.

Mrs. Reid sent it by mail to Congressman Wendover, who had been sponsor for the new act by which the law of 1794, providing a new stripe and a new star for each state, was changed to require only a new star for each state. Thirteen stripes were to be preserved to represent the original colonies.

The law making the new banner the official flag of the United States became effective July 4, 1818.

NOW.

Nearly a hundred million people live beneath that flag today as compared with less than 10,000,000 ninety-six years ago, and it waves over a combined area several times greater than that represented by its twenty states in 1818. Its westernmost recognition was then along the Mississippi river. Today the 48 states sweep unbrokenly across the continent.

The flag has also been planted over the Philippines, over numerous strategic islands in the Pacific, over the enormous area of Alaska and at the new gateway of oceans at Panama.

Several years ago it was carried around the world by a fleet of American battleships, and just five years ago it was planted at the North Pole by Commodor Peary.

That Garden Seed Catalogue

The highly illustrated garden and flower seed catalogues have served their purpose again, and, as is usual, this time of the year, the thrifty householder with spade and hoe, hies himself to the small patch of ground in the rear of the lot and proceeds with the work of applying the acid test to himself and to his visions of beauty and profit.

The man who invented the regulation seed catalogue was a real public benefactor. The highly colored illustrations contained in the catalogue fire the ambition of the amateur gardener as nothing else can do.

For the men who make a business of gardening—the men who work at gardening and nothing else and only for the sake of the profit it produces—the glowing catalogue has no charm.

But for the man who works in shop, factory or store for his living and "gardens" a little on the side for exercise and for the sake of getting his vegetables fresh out of the ground for his own table the garden seed catalogue is a source of joy during many a long evening in the latter part of winter.

Not only that but the man who "gardens" for his health is inspired by the glowing accounts and vivid illustrations and that inspiration is the real incentive which causes him to do more real physical work than he could be coaxed, begged or driven into doing by any other means.

The men who make a business of truck farming and gardening are fired by no such inspiration.

With them it is a grind and they save their garden seeds from their own plants paying little or no attention to the fancy catalogue.

There is no more pleasant occupation and no more healthful exercise for the man who is confined during the working hours of the day than to get out in the garden patch during the cool of the evenings or in the early morning and dig in the ground.

Few indeed are the men who would engage in work which meant blistered hands and sore joints brave the angry glances of the good house wife, when mud is tracked across the clean kitchen floor, unless inspired by the pictures and the language of the garden seed catalogue.

The man who invented the attractive seed catalogue not only had an eye to business but he was a real friend to man.

Each summer when the weather gets hot and the weeds grow abundantly, the enthusiasm accumulated during the winter months vanishes. It takes a wonderfully good production of garden stuff to carry the city gardener into the autumn season without a shortage in the treasury of enthusiasm. But the winter season and the seed catalogue creates a surplus each year and the man who in August announces "never again for me", is at it again with renewed energy when spring comes.

General Readjustment Hopeful Sign of Times

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT SIGN OF THE TIMES IS NOT THE INCREASE OF WEALTH OR EVEN THE INCREASE OF MONOPOLY OR THE REBELLION AGAINST IT, OF WHICH SO MUCH IS SAID. MORE POWERFUL AND MORE IMPORTANT THAN EITHER IS THE INCREASE OF THE SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS, THE RECOGNITION OF HUMAN VALUES AND THE READJUSTMENT GOING ON ALL OVER THE LAND. THE WHOLE INDUSTRIAL WORLD IS SHOT THROUGH AND THROUGH WITH ETHICAL AND MORAL FORCES.

The great corporations have learned that they MUST CEASE TO BE MASTERFUL AND MUST BECOME SERVANTS. They have learned that when they seek to govern they find public opinion stronger than they. Let us hope that the day is past when men can by controlling the brute power of cash exercise mastery over the purposes, the initiative and the acts of their fellows.

Few Monopolies Exist Outside of Public Utilities

By Dr. CHARLES R. VAN HISE,
President University of Wisconsin

IT must be borne in mind in framing new legislation aimed at the destruction of monopoly that FEW IF ANY MONOPOLIES TODAY EXIST OUTSIDE OF THE PUBLIC UTILITIES. It must also be remembered that modern tendencies in the press, periodicals, on the stump and in public debate have of late seriously CONFUSED MAGNITUDE WITH MONOPOLY. It must be the duty of the framers of legislation to differentiate clearly between mere bigness and monopolistic control of a character detrimental to the public welfare.

WHEREAS NOTHING SHOULD BE ENACTED WHICH WOULD LIMIT THE SHERMAN LAW IN ITS FUNCTION AS A PREVENTIVE OF MONOPOLY, IT MUST NOT BE FORGOTTEN THAT WE ARE LIVING IN AN AGE OF CO-OPERATION IN EVERY LINE OF PRODUCTIVE ENDEAVOR. THIS CO-OPERATION IS BY NO MEANS CONFINED TO THE GREAT CONCERNS ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES. IT EXISTS BETWEEN THE TWO DEALERS IN ICE AND AMONG THE THREE DEALERS IN ANTHRACITE IN MY HOME TOWN OF MADISON JUST AS MUCH AS IT EXISTS IN CHICAGO OR NEW YORK IN THE GREATEST BUSINESSES.

Of him, my foe, was compassed by my act;
That I was versed in language, lore or fact;
Not that I had the gift of speech to sway
A multitude to think the other way;
Not that the world of customs was my guide;
Not that in rich possessions was my pride.

Let it be said of me—
Not that I strove and ran and won the prize,
And blocked the way when others sought to rise;
Not that my voice was heard in wild hurrah
When ancient license posed as higher law;
Not that my eyes were blind when sham was set
To dazzle folly into mild regret;
Not that my ears were deaf to sob and cry
Beneath the wheels when splendor hurried by.

Let it be said of me—
Wherever there was holy cause to serve,
Or hearts that ache, or perils that unnerve;
Wherever there was arduous tasks to do,
A path to light, a duty to pursue;
Wherever there was a child to wrest from wrong,
Or weary soul athirst for love and song,
Wherever slaves of time cried to be free,
My hand was reached—let it be said of me.

DELEGATES IN FAVOR OF REPEAL

Washington, April 13. — President Wilson and his advisers apparently are becoming concerned over the fate of the Panama canal tolls question in the senate. Two members of the cabinet issued statements defending the administration measure.

By authority of the Democratic national committee a statement has been issued designed to show that a considerable majority of the delegates in the Baltimore convention in 1912 did not know of the presence in the platform of the plank indorsing the exemption clause. This statement further contends that a majority of the delegates are with the president on the issue despite the platform declaration.

Mr. Redfield, the secretary of commerce, argued the tolls question from a business standpoint. He made the claim that the shippers most directly concerned will not be adversely affected if required to pay tolls.

Mr. Bryan's formal approval of the action of the administration in turning its face on the Baltimore platform tolls plank is expected to arouse a storm of criticism. Democratic opponents of the administration bill also express resentment over the action of the Democratic national committee.

STATE INSPECTOR TESTING METERS

Inspector Charles V. Critchfield of the State Public Utilities Department was here yesterday, making tests of some of the gas meters about which there has been complaints, as well as testing the quality of gas furnished local consumers.

Mr. Critchfield first called upon Mayor Cahill and secured a list of names of some of the persons who complained about the low pressure of gas and the "high pressure" gas bills, during the cold spell of several weeks ago. Employees of the gas company assisted him to remove some of these meters, which he carefully tested in the rear room of the company's offices on West Main street.

Mr. Critchfield had with him his own tools and testing appliances and made the tests according to usual methods prescribed by the state department. The gas was tested as to the amount of heat units contained. He finished his work in the afternoon and returned to Columbus, taking with him a lot of data from which he will prepare his report to be submitted to the Public Utilities Commission — Chillicothe News.

DESERTED IN '61, SHE SUES.

For Thirty Years She Lived Near Husband, Unaware of His Existence.

San Francisco.—Contending that she was legally married to Hiram Hughson in 1860 and had thought him dead since 1861, Mrs. F. H. Brigham has filed suit in Modesto, Cal., for the widow's share of the $600,000 estate left by Hughson, who died intestate three years ago.

Mrs. Brigham alleges that a year after their marriage in Norwich, N. Y., fifty-three years ago Hughson left his home, saying he was going to seek his fortune in California and promising to send for her later. But she never heard from him again.

Thinking him dead, she married Brigham and moved to Ventura, Cal., in 1880, and for more than thirty years she lived half a day's ride from Hughson's home without knowing it. The truth was revealed by accident recently to a man whose father knew of her marriage to Hughson in New York, and the presentation of the claim followed.

Hughson prospered as a rancher after coming to California. In 1864 he married Luella R. Avery, a school-teacher in Stockton. The second Mrs. Hughson, with whom he had ten children, took charge of the estate upon her husband's death.

LAWYERS MAKE A VAIN APPEAL

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Governor Glynn for the fifth time refused to reprieve the gunmen. For an hour and a half he and his legal advisers listened to a final plea from Judge Wahle and the judge's partner, H. L. Kringel, who placed before the governor the evidence submitted to Judge Goff upon the application for a new trial. Governor Glynn listened to everything Judge Wahle had to say and then retired to his private room with his attorneys. After half an hour the governor announced to Judge Wahle that he was very sorry, but that nothing had been presented thus far which would cause him to interfere with the electrocution of the gunmen.

Judge Wahle left for New York. "It is all over," he announced, as he came out of the executive chamber. "The governor has been very good to us, but announced he could see no reason which would make him interfere. If political ambitions were not mixed up in this case we would either have had a new trial or a reprieve."

Dynamo Wrecked.

Sing Sing, N. Y., April 13.—An attempt was made by some one in the prison to prevent the execution of the gunmen by putting the dynamo attached to the electric chair out of commission. Some one, believed to have been a second term, who had access to the electric power house, armed with a wrench and other tools, ruined the new machinery. Another dynamo was connected with the chair.

GALLON TO RUN AUTO 53 MILES

Mr. Jacob Hedges was showing on the street today an invention of his and Mr. Hammack which seems likely to make them famous as well as wealthy.

It is a device for saving gasoline in the operation of an automobile. A small tube is attached to the manifold and the gasoline is mixed with hot air produced by the exhaust.

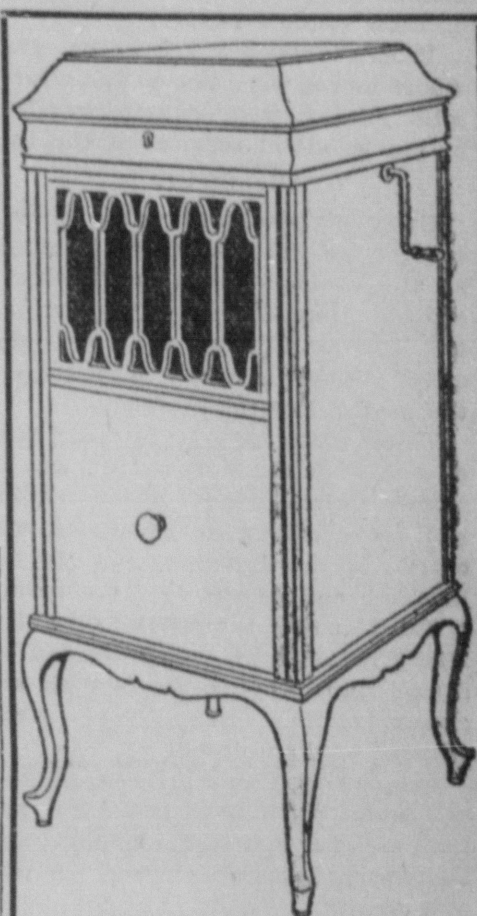

Mr. Hedges claims that he has run fifty three miles on a gallon of gasoline with this attachment and as the ordinary average is about fifteen to twenty, it will be a great saving to the owner of one of these pleasure cars.

Mr. Hedges and Mr. Hammack have applied for a patent and hope to soon have the device manufactured. It looks like a good thing.—Lancaster Eagle.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES IN ALL CHURCHES

Brilliant Easter Programs Are Rendered and Great Crowds Throng the Places of Worship to Enjoy Exquisite Music and Appropriate Sermons Marking Easter-tide—Perfect Day Draws Thousands From Home.

Easter morning was ushered in gloriously, with birds caroling the advent of spring in sweet melodies, and the budding earth bathed in golden sunshine. It was that rarest of days—a perfect Easter Sunday—and all the more appreciated, following the gloom of Saturday.

Easter bonnets were given full opportunity and came out in a continuous Easter parade. The whole earth seemed in tune with the joyous Easter-tide.

But, as always, the true glory of the resurrection day, was found in the churches, where triumphant Easter anthems swelled in glad melody, where words of eloquence told of the risen Savior and where Easter flowers offered the fragrance of their radiant beauty.

People crowded the churches, many whose names were not on the church rolls joining with church members in the beautiful services of the day.

GRACE CHURCH.

Great audiences at Grace church appreciated the fine music rendered by the choir, under Miss Gardner's capable direction, at both morning and evening services, and the eloquent Easter sermons preached by the pastor, Rev. F. E. Ross.

There was a very large choir, supplemented at the morning services by Messrs. Kneisley and Smith, violinists; Messrs. Johnson and Adams, cornetists in the morning, and Messrs. Kneisley and Adams in the evening.

The fact that the regular organist, Miss Minnie Light, was prevented by illness from playing the difficult accompaniments, necessitated some changes in the program.

Mrs. Mabel Calvert Blessing took the organ, with only two days' notice, and her splendid work in solos and accompaniments showed remarkable ability.

All of the Easter anthems were rendered with good volume, vigor and fine shading. Especially beautiful was the anthem, "O King Immortal," with violin obligato by Mr. Kneisley and incidental solos by Miss Ruth Parrett, who possesses a very sweet soprano voice, and Miss Pauline Pine, a pleasing contralto. The movement and spirit of this anthem was vibrant with Easter joy.

The vested choir was imposing and the decorations were particularly effective, the chancel massed with palms and in the center rising a tall vase of ascension lilies.

Special tribute was paid to Easter in the Sunday school services of Grace church. The Men's and Women's Bible classes, numbering between two and three hundred, joined together for a very interesting service.

Mrs. F. G. Carpenter read the beautiful story, "The Young King," and a quartet, Misses Gardner, Bess Cleveland, Pauline Pine and Helen Teters sang quartets.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Easter morning services at the Presbyterian church was markedly impressive, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper being observed and also the baptism of children, and reception of new members. A large number of the hundred and twenty received during the past year responded to the roll call of the pastor, Rev. Wm. B. Gage.

Lending its undercurrent of Easter beauty was special music by the choir, an exceptionally brilliant anthem, "Rejoice! the Lord is Risen" with the solos taken by Mrs. Werter Shoop and Miss Ada Woodward. A wealth of Easter flowers banked the chancel in graceful arrangement.

Prefacing the dignified church service was an Easter program presented at the Sunday school. It was in charge of "The Class in the Corner," Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock, chairman, and was generally pronounced the prettiest Easter entertainment ever presented by the Sunday school.

The piece de resistance was a pantomime, "The Holy City," by "The Doers," with Miss Ada Woodward singing the glorious Easter solo in her fresh young soprano, and the pantomime presented by graceful maidens, in roles of white and shining crowns.

There were songs and exercises by the Primary department, the "Busy Bells," the babies of Kinderland, and the Sunbeams. Miss Lillian Davis played for the entire program.

Miss Helen Bishop gave a reading and Rev. Hennessy, Ph. D., a little talk on "Scenes at the Sepulchre."

In the evening a magnificent audience, beyond the capacity of church, Sunday school and galleries, enjoyed one of the most beautiful Easter cantatas ever sung by the choir, "The Risen King," Schaeffer.

The music was replete with exquisite harmonies and superbly rendered by a choir of between 30 and 40 voices, augmented by Mr. Smith and Miss Kessler, violinists; Mr. Chas. Johnson, alto horn; Mr. Elmer Zimmerman, bass horn, and Mrs. Lillie G. Davis fine organ support. The chorister, Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson, is to be congratulated upon the way in which the choir responded to her efforts throughout the entire cantata.

The tenor and bass was unusually strong and the men's fine choral work a notable feature of the program.

Mr. L. L. Bowman, whose fine baritone is a power in itself, rendered a very beautiful solo, and Mrs. Wert Shoop and Mrs. Arthur Burgett sang the soprano and contralto solos in the anthems perfectly.

Miss Kessler's violin solo, Chanson d'Amour, Froelich, was artistically played.

Throughout the evening's program in both solos and anthems Mrs. Davis surpassed her always admirable organ work and the processional by the white robed choir was singularly effective. Mr. Smith's violin solo was a feature of the entrance processional.

FIRST BAPTIST.

There were beautiful services, largely attended, both morning and evening at the First Baptist church.

Miss Elizabeth Sheen directed the choir in a morning "Service of Song," and again in the evening in special Easter music.

A full choir sang buoyant Easter anthems with good attack and expression, the solos admirably taken by Miss Sheen and Mr. Albert Burch. Miss Sheen's contralto solos were beautiful features of the evening service.

Mrs. J. H. Hicks presided at the piano, owing to the illness of the pianist, Miss Mabel Briggs.

Rev. West delivered two impressive sermons, the morning sermon on "The Resurrection of Jesus," especially significant of the day.

Easter decorations were artistically carried out in white azaleas and ascension lilies, with a profusion of greenery.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The Sunday school of the Church of Christ ushered in the very attractive Easter services of the day with a special program, in charge of Miss Mabel Jones, superintendent.

The young ladies' Glee club furnished music and there were pleasing recitations and dialogue. An Easter offering was taken for the benevolences of the church.

At the morning service Rev. Hostetter preached a strong Easter sermon on "The Resurrection of the Nazarene," and the choir, under the efficient leadership of Mr. Clifford Ervin sang joyous Easter Anthems.

The Junior Endeavor society rendered an excellent program in the afternoon, Miss Della Cartwright having it in charge.

The song service in the evening drew a packed house and was exceedingly good. The anthems and Easter hymns were splendidly sung and Mrs. O. G. Blackwell added a lovely solo to the program.

Solo parts in the anthems were taken by Mrs. Grace Campbell, Mrs. Orlean Toops and Mrs. Mary Hyer.

Mrs. Lon Marks was pianist for all the services. The pastor gave a brief sermon at the evening service.

Many beautiful spring flowers lent added attraction.

EPISCOPALIAN.

The Episcopalian services conducted at 11 o'clock, 3:30 and 7:30 by Archdeacon Dodson, were markedly impressive.

There was a profusion of flowers and special Easter music, under the leadership of Miss Jessie Leavell, of Bloomingburg.

ST. COLMAN'S.

Easter services at St. Colman's church surpassed all those of previous years. The principal mass of the day was celebrated at 7:30 in the presence of a large crowd.

The front pews in the middle aisle were reserved for the Holy Name society, recently organized to abolish profane language. These men received holy communion in a body, in company with every member of the congregation. The sight was most impressive and edifying as the constant procession to the communion railing showed that each society had turned out en masse to receive their Risen Lord.

This large number was indeed a fitting testimony of the splendid work which has been carried on by Rev. Father Fogarty since his taking charge of the parish.

The altars were adorned with a profusion of cut flowers, and lighted by tall waxen tapers and electric lights.

The music of this mass was rendered by the children's choir. The hymns of joy and praise were sung unusually well by the childish voices.

The final services took place at 9:30. After the high mass Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given, closing the services of the day. The male choir was in charge of the music at these services.

A. J. Bock's mass in D was rendered under the direction of Mr. Chas. Cullen. A duet was sung at the Offertory by Miss Regina McDonald and Mr. Cullen.

Rev. Father Fogarty delivered eloquent sermons at both masses. His forceful talk included many beautiful and consoling lessons to be drawn from Christ's resurrection from the tomb. He also expressed his praise for the interest manifested by his congregation in all the Lenten devotions and their worthy preparation for the great feast which they celebrated so impressively yesterday.

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL TONIGHT

HOW A BROOKLYN GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again. Grace D. Lamb, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was all run-down and on the verge of nervous prostration. I could not sleep for pain in my back. In all I was a wreck. A friend told me what Vinol had done for her little girl so I tried it. I noticed an improvement after the first bottle. I could sleep well, my appetite improved, and after taking three bottles I am strong and well again."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

SENATOR CUMMINS FLAYS UNSCRUPULOUS RAILROADS

In Speech Before Senate This Afternoon Charge Is Made That Railroads are Seeking Sympathy to Obtain Much Desired Increase Which Means More in One Year Than All Panama Canal Tolls in 12 to 15 Years.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Senator Cummins charged on the floor of the Senate today that a persistent and widespread campaign was being conducted to arouse public sympathy for the request for a five per cent increase in freight rates on eastern railroads, now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The senator expressed confidence that the Commission would decide this question on its merits, but said the public was being misled by incorrect and exaggerated statements.

Senator Cummins compared the railroad situation with the Panama canal tolls question, declaring that an advance in railroad rates of five per cent will amount in one year to more than all the tolls paid by all the ships that will go through the canal in twelve or fifteen years and more than American coastwise ships, if they paid full tolls, would be charged in half a century.

"In connection with the proceedings before the Commission," he continued, "there is in progress the most comprehensive, energetic and persistent campaign that I have ever witnessed to make the people of the country believe that the effort of the government to regulate railways, railway rates and railway practices has resulted in dismal, disastrous failure; that the government in its endeavor to protect the people has impoverished the transportation companies; that it has driven them to the very verge of bankruptcy and ruin; that it has destroyed their credit and rendered them incapable of performing the services which commerce demands; that it has outlawed them from the confidence of capital and exiled them from the field of the investor."

"This extraordinary campaign has filled the newspapers with headlines, with dispatches, with letters and with editorials. It has taken possession of the magazines out of which, week after week issue appeals for justice to the decadent railroads and to despondent railroad managers, and it gives dinners and holds public banquets where the eloquence of orators paints lurid pictures of empty treasuries, of worn-out tracks, of falling bridges and dilapidated equipment."

"I do not assert that the campaign is being carried on to affect the Commission," he continued, "for the railroad companies know that it cannot be swerved a hair's breadth from the path of its duty, but I do assert that the movers of this campaign are trying to do an infinitely more objectionable thing. They are trying to mislead and pervert the judgment of the people. They are trying to awaken sympathy by false pretense. They are trying to deceive the country with exaggerated cries of suffering and distress in order to escape the control which experience has demonstrated should be imposed upon all corporations which undertake a public service."

The senator denied that the people of the United States are hostile to the railroads and said that every one desired that all railroads be well constructed and well operated. He did not doubt that there were some rates which should be increased, and some which should be decreased.

Senator Cummins recalled that substantially all the railroad rates now prevailing were made by the railroads themselves and added that in his opinion ninety-five per cent of the freight revenues of the railroads are derived from interstate freight rates made and published without any interference upon the part of the government. He added that he believed that the physical condition of the railroads is better now than ever before in their history.

MRS. S. C. PHILLIPS ANSWERS SUMMONS

Mrs. Mary Phillips, wife of S. C. Phillips, answered the eternal summons Sunday evening about 7:30, after an illness extending over several months, though she was confined to her bed only a few days.

A fine woman, with sterling qualities, Mrs. Phillips had many friends who regret to learn of her death. She was an active worker in the W. R. C. until her recent illness, and her loss is deeply felt by this order.

The funeral services will be held at the Christian church Tuesday afternoon at 2:00, where the casket will be opened.

Following the services at the church the remains will be taken by the 3:50 p. m. train over the C. & M. V. to Waynesville, where services will be held at 1:00 at the Christian church Wednesday, followed by burial at that place.

This earth will be used in filling in some of the streets, probably the extension of North Fayette St.

AID SOCIETY MEETING.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Jennie Mark on East Temple street, Wednesday, April 15, at 2:30 o'clock. Every member should be present as there is business which must be attended to at this meeting. Please come. Refreshments will be served and a program given.

COMING FROM MANY STATES

Monday, April 20th, just one week from today, will bring with it the opening of the Horse Show and judging from the opening sale of seats the attendance will be sufficient to cover every available seat in the house.

Reservations have been made for parties from Buffalo, Cleveland and Dayton which goes to indicate the interest shown at a distance, in our local show.

Much has been said of the passing of the horse, but that today he is even more popular than ever, is indicated by the increased number of entertainments being staged at which the horse is the big attraction.

Race meetings are increasing in number from extreme East to extreme West and Ohio horses can be found competing for first honors.

The same is true of the Horse Show field, Ohio has each year produced her share of winners, which are competing under many different owners' colors.

Last season the leading stable of show horses from Kansas City was headed by an Ohio production.

Those who take pleasure in music and horses will enjoy a rare treat during the coming event as the display promises well and coupled with probably the most popular musical organization in this section, will afford a rich feast of pleasure.

The presence of Gov. Cox at the opening performance will afford a good opportunity to see the Governor enjoying his favorite diversion as he has always been associated in some way with light harness horses and now owns among others on his farm a Fayette county product.

Politics will have nothing to do with his visit and those who are fortunate enough to meet him will find him a genial visitor.

Horses shown at the different performances will be an example of our varied kinds produced in the county and will be worth the time spent in inspecting them.

To afford a variety to the program a troupe of comedians will be introduced who will prove a pleasing part of the program which will be different at each performance. Weather indications are such that pleasant condition is probable and it is hoped each performance will find the seats well filled.

COLORED MAN IS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

Ed Henderson, the colored man who was arrested one night last week on suspicion of being insane and who manifested many symptoms of being temporarily deranged, was Sunday morning given his freedom. The man had become perfectly rational, and laughed about posing for a moving picture machine, and about having killed his mother.

"I stopped in a saloon at Cumminsville, this side of Cincinnati, and got a bottle of whiskey. That was two weeks ago. I have been drunk ever since."

Sheriff Nelson purchased a ticket for him for Chillicothe, and saw him aboard the train. He announced his intention of going from Chillicothe to Covington.

BORTON—VINCENT.

The marriage of Miss Iva Jane Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Vincent and Mr. Orville J. Borton, of near Port William, will be surprising news to many young friends.

The bridegroom announced the marriage Easter at the beautiful country home of his parents, Sunday, at high noon. Relatives and close friends had witnessed the ceremony performed by Rev. Sultzbach.

The bride was charming in a lovely gown of white brocade with handsome lace trimming and carried a bouquet of fragrant white lilies. The impressive ring service was read by Dr. Sultzbach and immediately after the ceremony a delicious three-course dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Borton will make their future home on a big farm near Port William as Mr. Borton is engaged in farming with his father. Mr. Borton is one of Port William's popular young fellows in lodge and the P. W. H. school.

His bride is an attractive and accomplished young woman of Washington C. H. and both have scores of friends who will extend congratulations and good wishes to both young friends.

STILL RESISTING REBELS' ATTACK

Federals Under General Velasco Hold Town of Parras.

VILLA DIRECTING OPERATIONS

General Carranza Given a Great Reception at Chihuahua, Where He Will Hold Conference With General Villa—Rebel Officers Crossing Into El Paso Will Hereafter Be Placed Under Arrest.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—Advices reaching Juarez were that the rebel army at San Pedro, east of Torreon, was being augmented rapidly by men from the Torreon garrison and that they are being outfitted for 10 days' marching in pursuit of the federals.

The federal band which was defeated at San Pedro, instead of going toward Monterrey, as at first expected, headed for Saltillo, the report says. The federals at Parras, said to be under the command of General Refugio Velasco, which evacuated Torreon, were still resisting the rebel attack at last reports.

Juarez was principally occupied with discussing the coming meeting of Carranza and Villa at Chihuahua. Carranza was given a reception at Chihuahua, which he reached without incident on his trip from Juarez. A bullfight, a parade of troops and other entertainments were given in his honor at Chihuahua. Villa is expected there as soon as he considers that the fighting at Torreon is going sufficiently favorable to him to permit his leaving.

Captain Harry N. Cootes, United States army provost marshal for the military patrol district of El Paso, has ordered the arrest of all rebel officers crossing to El Paso, and this has created ill feeling in Juarez and is resulting in threats against Americans. Rebel officers have been in the habit of removing their swords and cartridge belts and coming freely to El Paso.

SEASON OPENS OP TOMORROW

Organized Ball Men Predict a Prosperous Season.

New York, April 13.—On the eve of the major league baseball season, the executives and magnates of the American and National leagues predict another six months of exciting pennant races and general prosperity. Organized baseball, ignoring the invasion of its field by the newly-formed Federal group of owners and players, reiterates its faith in the loyalty of its followers and the standard of the game as played by its clubs.

Both President Ban Johnson of the American league and President John K. Tener of the National league, in outlining the prospects of their respective bodies for the 1914 campaign, express the belief that organized baseball will receive the confidence and support accorded it by the devotees of the game in past years. In fact, optimism, harmony and enthusiasm appear to be the words of the hour before the initial contests of tomorrow of the new baseball year. In the National league the Chicago Cubs will be the guests of the Cincinnati club.

The American association also opens its season tomorrow, Columbus playing at Louisville and Cleveland at Indianapolis.

Federal League Opening Today. Baltimore, April 13.—The Federal league championship season will be formally opened here today with a game between the Baltimore and Buffalo clubs.

PREVENTION OF FLOODS COVERED

Washington, April 13.—Causes of floods in the Ohio valley and specific recommendations for future prevention are set forth in the report of the special board of engineers appointed by Secretary Garrison to investigate last year's floods in the Ohio valley.

Reference is made to the need of educational work, such as has been done by the national drainage congress, whose headquarters are in Chicago. The report of the special board of engineers probably will be the keynote of the big convention to be held by the national drainage congress in Savannah, the latter part of this month, and it is probable the report will be made public just before the convention is held.

PRINTERS SAY TRUST EXISTS

Columbus, O., April 13.—Battle forces, it is declared, that will assume national proportions within the next few months, were organized by the Ohio Typographical conference, in session in Columbus, to carry on a "war to the last ditch" against what the printers charge is a monopoly in restraint of trade fostered by the United States government through its postoffice department. The alleged "trust" is the Mercantile Corporation of Dayton, which holds the federal contract for the exclusive printing of stamped envelopes and stamped mailing wrappers. Charles Kroettinger of Columbus was unanimously elected president of the state conference for the ensuing year.

TWO CHARGED WITH MURDER

Pittsburg, April 13.—Dr. C. C. Meredith, a well-known local physician, and Miss Lucy D. Orr, a nurse in his employ, arrested a few days ago on an alleged charge of malpractice in connection with the death of Mrs. Myrtle Allison a year ago and released on bail, were rearrested by the county authorities, charged with murder. The action followed the exhuming of the body of a woman buried March, 1913, under the name of Daisy Davis, but which was identified as that of Mrs. Allison by N. L. Baxter, her brother.

DEMAND SALUTE

For Indignities Put Upon American Marines at Tampico.

Washington, April 13.—The American flag will be given a national salute of 21 guns by the federal forces at Tampico.

Admiral Mayo's demand for this salute, as part of the reparation for the indignities put upon an American naval officer and marines at Tampico, is supported vigorously by this government and the rendering of the salute will be insisted upon. If necessary, a demonstration of force will be made to convince President Huerta and his commander at Tampico that this time the United States is backing up its word to the limit.

Charles O'Shaughnessy has been instructed to see Huerta again about the Tampico incident and impress upon him the seriousness of the affront which his military commander at Tampico offered the American flag men and the United States flag. It is likely that a more explicit apology will be demanded.

COXEY'S ARMY

Massillon, O., April 13.—Five hundred Massillon people cheered General J. S. Coxey when in a public meeting he asked them to escort to Canton his army of unemployed which he plans to lead to Washington. Coxey addressed hundreds of jobless men here and in Canton. The army of the commonweal, which is rapidly gathering here, will march this time, as before, afoot, carrying blankets or backs and sleeping out under the sky. Coxey expects to have his army live "off the fat of the land" during the progress of the long tramp.

MINIMUM WAGE

Columbus, O., April 13.—Secretary of State Graves said he has been informed by the Ohio Municipal Wage league of Cleveland that initiative petitions will shortly be put into circulation proposing to the next legislature the enactment of a minimum wage and eight-hour day law for all workers. Max Hayes, Cleveland labor leader, is president of the committee that is backing the proposition.

CHANGED MIND ABOUT DYING

Columbus, O., April 13.—Beverly Pinney, 23, is recovering at his home in Dublin, this county, after a double attempt at suicide, which involved not only the cutting of his throat with a razor, but a spectacular leap from a 40-foot bridge. Physicians say a remarkable vitality, together with an apparent change of mind while he was in the cold water into which he jumped, saved the youth's life.

PHYSICIAN DEAD

Fremont, O., April 13.—Dr. Peter Beaupre, probably the oldest physician in the United States and the oldest resident in Sandusky county, died at his home here after a three days' illness, due to old age. He was conscious until the end. Dr. Beaupre was born in Detroit Aug. 26, 1814.

GREASES AND SLIPS AWAY

Carroll, Self-Confessed Bandit, Makes Sensational Escape.

Holidaysburg, Pa., April 13.—Frank G. Carroll, alias Wilson, the confessed bandit, who robbed the Union bank of Altoona and shot Cashier A. P. Rupert and William E. Blackburn on March 23, wriggled through a six-inch window opening in his cell in the Blair county jail at Holidaysburg, climbed up the outer wall to the roof and then fashioned a 40-foot rope out of his bed clothing by which he descended to the street below.

Nearby residents declared that a high-powered motorcar was stationed in the street close to the jail at the midnight hour. Carroll's only aid in the cell to escape was a bar of soap. With the soap he greased his naked body and the six-inch slit in the window, wriggled out snake-fashion and then, clad only in pajamas, fled to the recesses of the Allegheny mountains.

Carroll's wife and alleged accomplice in his exploits is lying ill and in the custody of officers at Salem, O.

MINISTER IS HOME RULER

New York, April 13.—Rev. Charles Silvester Horne, M. P., for Ipswich, an ardent advocate of home rule for Ireland, Scotland, Wales and England, arrived by the liner St. Paul to deliver a lecture before the Yale university school. Rev. Mr. Horne is a Congregationalist. He is a Liberal, with strong radical tendencies, and says he is the only clergyman with a charge in parliament. Mr. Horne said:

"There will be no military uprising in Ulster against the government or against the Catholics. Protestants have nothing to fear from democracy and free institutions. After we get a parliament for Ireland we will set about getting one for Wales and England. The machinery of the present parliament is antiquated and too cumbersome. It is probable that the Liberal program will be carried out in May. The home rule bill will go to the king and receive his signature then. The submission of the bill to the house of lords will be in the nature of a formality."

TRAIN SAVED BY A MIRACLE

Harrison, N. Y., April 13.—"It must have been a miracle that saved this train from destruction," was the comment of W. J. Murphy, motorman of the Green Mountain express on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, as he staggered from his cab after it jumped the track while going 50 miles an hour, between Harrison and Rye. The steel cars crashed against the stone wall on the side of the bridge over Sterling lane, tossed tons of stone aside as though straw, burrowed through sand and stopped after tearing a big steel pillar from its concrete foundation. Strange to say, not one of the 250 passengers on the train was injured. The only injured were W. J. Murphy, the motorman, bruises about the face, and James Hackett, mail clerk.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young—is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. adv

WILSON RETURNS TO SEAT

Arrives In Time to Put In Full Day on Week's Program.

RECEIVES SECRETARY DANIELS

Will Hold a Number of Conferences With Senators During the Week On the Situation With Regard to the Repeal Bill—Anti-Trust Legislation Also To Be Considered—Mrs. Wilson Remains at Springs.

Washington, April 13. — President Wilson arrived here this morning from White Sulphur Springs in time to put in a full day on the strenuous program of work he has set for the week.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels reported to the president today in detail on the events at Tampico last week, which resulted in a demand by Admiral Mayo for an apologetic salute the American flag.

The house judiciary committee will be called to the White House to report upon the progress made with the bill to supplement the Sherman anti-trust act and to consult with the president upon the steps necessary to be taken before that measure, together with that creating an interstate trade commission, may be reported into the house.

During the week the president plans to hold a number of conferences with senators on the situation with regard to the tolls repeal. He will make a determined effort to bring the opposition to his program to a head as soon as possible, realizing as he does that the upper house will

BRICKLAYERS QUIT

Zanesville, O., April 13.—All building in Zanesville has been tied up by a strike. 50 bricklayers and 60 hod-carriers walking out when their demands for a 5-cent raise and a 2½-cent raise an hour, respectively, were refused. Plumbers and carpenters have asked for an increase of 50 cents a day, but this has not yet been granted.

LANDMARK RAZED

Findlay, O., April 13.—The old landmarks that Charles Dickens visited when he made his American visit in the 40's are rapidly disappearing, the hotel at which he stopped in Tiffin being the latest to be razed. It was built in 1832.

RADIUM AND CANCER

Much has appeared in the newspapers recently regarding the radium treatment for cancer. As showing the opinions held by scientific men in England, the London correspondent of The Journal of the American Medical Association reports a recent discussion on this subject. At the annual meeting of the governors of the Cancer Hospital of London, Mr. Charles Ryall, F. R. C. S., chairman of the medical committee, described the present position of radium treatment to cancer. He said that although a great deal had been written in the lay press of late concerning radium and the marvelous cures which it had apparently effected, radium had not come to supplant surgery in the treatment of cancer, but to aid it. Cancer was a disease which grew from day to day and eventually reached the incurable stage, and therefore for safety it must be got rid of as early as possible, and the quickest and surest means was still the knife. There were cases, however, in which operation was either inadvisable or impossible, and in these, radium and the Roentgen rays were resorted to.

Radium was the most active substance known, and it was proved that it had a definite action on living cells. In cancer it had been found to exert a definite action either by destroying the cancer-cells or by retarding or preventing their growth. The properties of radium were comparatively little known, and therefore radium treatment was in the experimental stage, in which attempts were being made to fathom its effect on disease, especially cancer, to estimate its dosage, and to classify what cases were suitable for treatment by it.

That would mean some years of work, and it would, therefore, be well if silence could be maintained on the subject for the next two years until some definite announcement could be made. A definite pronouncement with regard to research work might be awaited with confidence, as the radium research work in this country was being carried on systematically. There was an enormous field for research and treatment among the patients at that hospital, but the workers were hampered by the inadequate quantity of radium at their disposal and their inability to procure more owing to its scarcity and enormous cost.

Spears a Wolf.
 Marinette, Wis.—Alex Johnson, fisherman, Liberty Grove, Door county, brought in for bounty a wolf which he killed by spearing. Off Rowleys bay he saw the animal afloat on a cake of ice. He broke up the ice by ramming it with his boat and then speared the wolf in the head with a pike pole. The bounty is $20.

DROPS 215 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Rochester, N. Y., April 13.—Standing at the railing of a bridge over the Genesee river, George Newman flipped a half-consumed cigaret from his fingers into the face of a man who was driving past in a carriage, then placed his hand on the bridge rail and vaulted lightly over. The fall is 215 feet. Newman's coat caught on one of the iron projections of the bridge rail, and he kicked himself free with his feet and took the plunge without a word. He struck on the rocks in the bottom of the gorge and not a bone in his body remained whole. The corpse was recovered. Newman was 30 years old and worked for a dental manufacturing company.

MORE CARE ORDERED IN FILM SHIPMENTS

Supplementing its regulations covering the transportation of explosives, inflammable and combustible materials, a circular has been issued to the agents of the Baltimore and Ohio System, embracing the Baltimore and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Staten Island railroads, defining the rules under which stereopticon outfits, moving picture films and cylinders containing compressed gasses must be handled.

These shipments will be accepted as passenger train baggage only when duly protected and labeled in such a manner as to indicate the contents of the packages. The cylinders of compressed gasses must contain a red label when the shipments are of an inflammable character. Cylinders containing non-inflammable contents must be tagged with a green label and motion-picture films must bear a yellow label. All such shipments must be properly labeled and certified as prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission's regulation for express.

Before motion picture films may be accepted for shipment, they must be packed in spark-proof metal cases enclosed in strong and tight wooden or fiberboard boxes or pallets. Or the reels will be accepted when packed in spark-proof cases of sheet-iron material of regulation thickness and lined with fiberboard at least one-eighth inch thick, or protected with other insulating material. The covers of film cases must form a tight joint, so as to eliminate the possibility of outside contact.

The development of the motion-picture business requires prompt and regular service in distributing the reels to the theaters served by the various syndicates, but the railroads have insured safety by the regulations adopted with the co-operation of the manufacturers.

SPLASHES WATCH IN TUMMY.

Quickly Downes Twelve Beers; Then Swallows Timepiece.

Beaver Falls, Pa.—On a wager of $10 George Konterline performed a brand new beer feat. Just as the hour of 12 began to strike from a big clock in the tower of a bank building near by Konterline downed a glass of beer in a couple of gulps. He followed this with another glass at each stroke of the clock until he had emptied twelve glasses. Then he swallowed his watch, holding the chain in his teeth.

The amazed spectators were invited to place ears against Konterline's breast and hear the watch tick. When Konterline held the end of the chain between his fingers and jiggled it the submerged timepiece could be heard splashing in the beer.

GREATER IN ARGENTINA.
 The only countries reported as having a greater per capita consumption of dressed meat than the United States are the Australian Commonwealth and Argentina. These, it is well known, are countries of sparse population and vast herds and flocks; hence meat is exceedingly cheap and the native consumption large and probably wasteful.

The per capita consumption of meat for Australia and Argentina is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 250 pounds per annum; it may possibly be even greater. The corresponding consumption for the United States was computed by the United States Bureau of Animal Industry to be 172 pounds in 1909, and it is estimated to be about 10 pounds less at the present time. This is much greater than the British consumption, the largest in Europe, which is slightly under 120 pounds per inhabitant per annum.

TWO NEW BULLETINS.

Some of the fundamental factors in common use for growing of the strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, gooseberry and currant are dealt with in a new bulletin on "Small Fruits," just issued by the College of Agriculture.

"Even where markets are not available or not especially desired," says R. B. Cruickshank, author of the bulletin, "many farmers grow such of these fruits as may appeal to them for their own consumption. The common berries, beginning with the strawberry, will furnish fresh fruit during the entire season and some of them will be ready before the first tree fruits are ripe."

Another neatly illustrated bulletin written by Prof. W. R. Lazenby along popular lines on the subject of "Trees for Shade, Shelter and Ornament" is available at this time. Either or both may be obtained by addressing A. B. Graham, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Solving Centralization Problem.

The schools of Allen township, Union county, Ohio, are centralized. For the last two years the pupils from ten sub-districts have been hauled to one central building. As this is several miles from any town, the superintendent found some difficulty in renting a residence near the school house the first year.

However, the school board soon solved the difficulty not only for him but for his successors. They sold all the abandoned school buildings in the township and with the proceeds built a substantial two-story frame residence. This is located on the school ground which consists of several acres.

In addition to the residence and new school house, a large shed about 30 by 40 feet has been erected for the care of the rigs of those pupils who furnish their own means of transportation.

IN PUBLIC MEETING THE TAXPAYER WILL BE HEARD

An innovation that has been inaugurated by the State Tax Commission, and which will be welcomed by taxpayers all over the state, is the recent action of the commission in making it possible for taxpayers to have a voice in saying whether taxes shall be lowered, or allowed to remain unchanged.

The plan of the Commission is to have county auditors call public meetings with tax-paying officials, in which taxpayers may be present and take part in discussing what the tax rate shall be for the respective districts.

Heretofore the County Budget Commission, which this year consists of County Auditor Henkle, Mayor Chas. F. Coffey and president of the Washington School board, Dr. D. H. Rowe, has met and guided by the recommendations from the various taxing districts, have fixed the tax rate accordingly. In some instances the Budget Commission has met with the officials of some of the tax districts, where the problems faced were unusually difficult, and have then fixed the rate.

The same plan may be followed this year, but the State Tax Commission has conceived the idea of holding public meetings with the tax-paying officials, and inviting the taxpayers of the various districts to be present and discuss the needs of their respective districts before the rate is fixed.

When interviewed on the subject Messrs. Henkle, Coffey and Rowe unhesitatingly approved of the plan to allow the taxpayers of the county in public meeting with the board to have a voice in the fixing of the tax levies, and to counsel with them concerning the requirements, to the end that economy may be brought fully into play in the levying and spending of tax money. When the County Budget Commission takes up its duties, which will be after the officials of all taxing districts in the county have certified their requirements, Auditor Henkle will call a public meeting or meetings for the purposes above stated.

Regarding the matter, a dispatch from Columbus, says: "Taking advantage of the suggestion of the state tax commission, five county auditors already have announced they are going to hold public meetings with tax-paying officials to bring about reduction in the tax rates. They have sent notice to the state commission of their intentions and promise that before the county budget commissions, of which they are members, shall approve any tax rates, opportunity is to be given to the public, who pays the taxes to be heard."

"So prompt has been the response that the state commission expects that in nearly every county the idea will be taken up. Fully convinced that public hearings will crystallize the latent sentiment for lower tax rates, members of the tax commission stated they are highly pleased with the prospects. As evidence of the fact there is no partisan tinge, it is pointed out that Republican county auditors as well as Democrats took up the suggestion."

Has Reserve Powers.

It develops, however, that the commission has reserve powers for use in causing to be made public estimates. Under section 54 of the Warner act the commission is directed to "prescribe such general and uniform rules and regulations and issue such orders and instructions as it may deem necessary respecting the manner of the exercise of the powers and the discharge of the duties of any and all officers relating to the assessment of real and personal property and the levy and collection of taxes."

Should there develop a disposition on the part of the minority to refuse to give the people a chance to be heard—which the commission does not expect—it would have authority, apparently, to require public meetings as part of the rules. From the tone of the communications of county auditors, the commission believes there will be none who will not gladly take up the tax rate reduction proposal.

Leading off in the commission's suggestion are these auditors: Robert D. Alexander, of Ross County; Frank Fortune, of Ashtabula; John Dalton, of Richland; Charles A. Morehead, of Union; W. V. Aldrich, of Delaware, and Hugo F. Schnelder, of Montgomery.

Reduction to Come.

Word was sent to the tax commission yesterday from Wooster that Charles Dieter, tax assessor of Wayne county, had completed his work in Rittman village, that county, had increased the personal property duplicate over $200,000 and that as a result the rate in that village would be reduced from $1.12 to 95 3-10 cents. This statement was based on the theory that the same amount of tax money would be raised this year in that village that was expended the previous 12 months.

In arriving at that rate no consideration was made for increases that will be made on incorporated companies by the district assessors and on public utilities by the state tax commission. The reduction given is 15 per cent. A review of Dieter's work shows three improved properties on the tax duplicate of Rittman village this year worth $5000 that never before have been taxed. One of the properties has been improved for three years, one seven years and one 10 years and never a cent of taxes was paid on them."

WIFE OF "LEFTY LOUIE" SEEKS FOR GLYNN'S PARDON

New York, April 13.—Mrs. Rosenberg, the pretty young wife of "Lefty Louie," one of the four gun men sentenced to die for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, made a final appeal in person before Governor Glynn for the pardon of her husband. She claims, it is said, that Harry Vallon, one of her husband's accusers, was the man who really fired the fatal bullets. The new trial of Lieutenant Becker, convicted with the gun men, will occur in May.

bullets. The murderers leaped into an automobile and escaped. Weeks later after Becker had been arrested, the gunmen were found in a flat in Brooklyn.

Their conviction, and Becker's, was based chiefly on the testimony of three go-betweens who turned state's evidence. These men, Jack Rose, Bridge Webber and Harry Vallon, declared that they had hired the gunmen to kill the gambler, Rosenthal, at Becker's request.

Sam Schepps, a little gambler, corroborated their testimony, and was not adjudged an accomplice.

Becker was a police lieutenant in charge of the "strong arm squad" whose duties were to keep in subjection the gangs of the city and to regulate gambling houses and places of ill-fame. Rose, Webber and Vallon said that Becker had made use of his position to collect money from these houses. Rosenthal, according to these same witnesses, having a grievance against Becker, was about to give evidence against Becker to the District Attorney.

Becker was arrested July 29, 1912, but nearly two months elapsed before the apprehension of the gunmen. Their trial before Justice Goff marked a record of speed in criminal procedure.

PARISIANS AFTER SAVAGE POLICE DOGS

Chief of Police Canady received a communication from a party in Paris, France, Thursday morning making inquiries about the breed of dogs that are found in this locality. Making special reference to the possibility of obtaining "german shepherd" dogs in this vicinity. These dogs are nearly extinct and have become as "trailers," making them invaluable as police dogs.

The police departments of Paris and Berlin have been using these dogs for some time with great success. Each officer in the "bad districts" is given one of these dogs for his own individual care and use, and so great becomes the attachment of the dogs for the owners that on several occasions they have been found to give up their life for their owners.

A large kennel, devoted to the exclusive breeding of these dogs is located in Greenwich, Conn., but the output of pups from these kennels falls far short of meeting the demand for them. The dogs are valued at from $75 to $100 and from the demand for them it appears as if it would be a profitable business for some one to raise these "hounds."

FOUR GUNMEN PAY PENALTY OF DEATH

By Associated Press.

Sing Sing, Ossining, April 13.—The four gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal died in the electric chair at Sing Sing at dawn today. None confessed and none mentioned the name of Charles A. Becker who was found guilty of instigating the murder, but saved by the Circuit Court of Appeals reversal.

Of the four who died, Frank Seidenschner (Whitie Louis) made the only statement. Even he did not flatly admit his innocence. "Gentlemen," he mumbled, when being strapped in the chair, "I did not shoot at Rosenthal. The men who said I did are perjurers. For the sake of Justice I say I didn't. Stannish—"

Seidenschner did not finish the sentence for just at that time the current was turned on. What he meant to say was that the waiter-witness Stannish had lied, but death intervened. He was the second to die. Dago Frank Cirofici was the first, Gyp the Blood (Harry Horowitz) was the third and Leftie Louie (Louis Rosenberg) was fourth. In forty minutes all were dispatched. All walked quietly to the chair and only their quaking knees and ashen pallor of their faces attested their realization that death was upon them.

William E. Cashin, Roman Catholic chaplain, accompanied Dago Frank to the chair. With Whitie Louis and Gyp the Blood was Rabbi Goldstein of New York. Rabbi Coxstein, long the spiritual advisor of the Rosenberg family, stood by Leftie Louie.

"Gentlemen," said Rabbi Goldstein, as he left the death chamber, "whether the Jewish boys were guilty or not, I will say I do not know. They did not confess to me. As for the Italian I do not believe he was in the crime. I do not think any of them should have been convicted on the testimony submitted."

The execution took place just at dawn. Many were admitted to the bare court yards where they stood trembling with ashen faces. Warden Clancey had announced that Gyp the Blood would die first, then Leftie Louie, Dago Frank and Whitie Louis, but the man who died first was Dago Frank. He showed signs of collapsing and it was deemed expedient to shield him from the ordeal of waiting. Those admitted to witness the execution were told under no circumstances should they ask questions of the men.

Corofici came in clutching a crucifix in both hands and had to be supported. "Oh God, I meet my God," said the doomed man as the current was turned on. He showed little resistance to the current, which registered 1920 volts and between 9 and 10 amperes. Of the four men he died the easiest. He had intended to make a statement but his mental faculties failed him.

Whitie Louis came in dressed in a black suit, as was Dago Frank. The statement which he never finished was on his lips as he entered. At 5:56 Gyp the Blood came in. He had a Jewish prayer book in his hands and Rabbi Goldstein was by his side. "Listen, Isreal, there is only one God," mumbled Gyp in Hebrew.

Leftie Louie, last to die, was the keenest sufferer by reason of waiting. He entered the chamber at 6:07. Like Gyp he held a prayer book in Hebrew. The first contact was at 6:08 and at 6:17 he was pronounced dead.

Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—The last avenue of hope for the four gunmen was closed six days before their execution when Governor Glynn refused to grant a stay, pending the second trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker, who was convicted in the lower courts of having plotted the murder of Herman Rosenthal to prevent him from making graft revelations to District Attorney Whitman. The Court of Appeals, in reversing the decision for Becker, declared itself unconvinced that he had directed the murder, but upheld the judgment of the lower court that the four gunmen had been the instruments. Motions for a new trial, on the ground of new evidence, made by their attorney, were denied, and they were sentenced to die during the week beginning April 13.

Four days before their execution a delegation of New York rabbis visited Governor Glynn and pleaded in vain with him to postpone the execution until after the second trial of Becker. The Governor remained fixed in the opinion that he had already expressed—that Becker's guilt or innocence could in no way affect the guilt of the gunmen who had been judged guilty by two courts.

The real names of the men who have been known as "Gyp the Blood," "Leftie Louie," "Dago Frank," and "Whitie Louis," were Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Cirofici and Frank Seidenschner. The youngest, Leftie Louie, was 21, the oldest, Dago Frank, 27. All were Jews except Dago Frank, as the nickname implies, he was an Italian. Gyp the Blood and Leftie Louie were married. Their young widows survive them.

Not only during the trial but in statements given out at Sing Sing, three of the gunmen persisted in the declaration that Dago Frank had not been present at the time of the murder, and was not in any way concerned in the plot to murder Rosenthal. During their stay in the Death House all four maintained an attitude of martyrlike innocence, tempered with an optimism growing out of their belief that their fate hinged upon Becker's and that if he were not guilty, they must be set free. The news crushing hopes of this nature as announced by the warden was received with stoical calmness.

The crime for which the four gunmen paid the death penalty started a wave of police reform, from which the ripples have not yet subsided. Throughout the revelations made at the time and subsequently, stalked the vague, sinister monster known as the "police system."

Rosenthal was shot down early on the morning of July 16, 1912, in front of the Hotel Metropole in the heart of the Tenderloin. On receiving an announcement from a man who came into the hotel, he walked out and fell dead before a fusillade of

CONFESSED?

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Some of the gunmen are believed to have confessed before they died. Supt. Riley of the big prison, said that statements would arrive from Ossining today, which show that "no injustice has been done by the execution."

Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—It was reported here this afternoon that "Dago Frank" Cirofici, before being put to death, made a confession to Father Cashin, in which he admitted justice had been done.

Dago Frank stated that while he was not present, Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg and Harry Vallon did the shooting.

It is further reported that Dago Frank said that none of the gunmen had known previous to the shooting that Lieutenant Becker was concerned. The confession is said to have been signed by Dago Frank.

BATTLE AT SAN PEDRO

By Associated Press.

Torreon by El Paso, April 13.—Heavy fighting was in progress at San Pedro yesterday, the Federals having retaken the place two days previously. It is reported also that the Federals with 3000 men, believing this city to be lightly garrisoned are on their way to recapture Torreon. A surprise awaits them, for when General Villa sent pursuers after General Velasco he left 5000 men here. General Villa with several train loads of reinforcements under his command attacked the town yesterday and a fierce battle ensued. A train load of Rebel wounded and 345 Federal prisoners arrived here today. The dispatch shows evidence of the work of the censor.

WILSON DEFENDS REPEAL

Washington, D. C., April 13.—President Wilson declared today that the repeal of the Panama Toll Exemptions could not be regarded as an interpretation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, because it is a legislative act. He also held that no amendment setting forth the rights of the United States under the treaty is necessary, in his opinion. Mr. Wilson took the same view held by Mr. Bryan that in repealing the exemptions the United States showed a disinclination to raise the question of discrimination, but did not limit any future policy of the government. The President said the tolls situation in the Senate is constantly improving and that apparently people who had been asked to appear in the hearing "were getting cold feet."

MUST FACE TRIAL

Columbus, O., April 13.—Judge A. B. Dillon of the Common Pleas court today overruled a motion of the attorneys for the four Democratic officials to quash the indictments against them for violation of the civil service law.

The four must now stand trial.

INSISTING ON THE APOLOGY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—President Wilson told callers today that a salute would be fired to the American flag by the Federals at Tampico as an apology for the recent arrest of American marines. He spoke with such confidence that his hearers took his words to imply that the point would be insisted upon. President Wilson has already approved Rear Admiral Mayo's demand for a salute as an apology.

PUTTING TEETH IN LEGISLATION

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 13.—President Wilson, Chairman Clayton and Representatives Floyd and Carlin, of the House Judiciary Committee, after a conference today, agreed to consolidate into one measure the main features of the Sherman law definitions bill and the bill to prohibit interlocking directorates in holding companies.

The President agreed to the insertion of the principles embodied in the two measures which passed the house last year, providing for the regulation of injunctions in labor cases and trial by jury.

DOUBLE KILLING IS MYSTERIOUS

By Associated Press.

Somerset, Pa., April 13.—John and Joseph D'Angelo, cousins, were shot and killed and Mrs. Frank D'Angelo, Joe's mother, was dangerously wounded at Boswell early today. The woman was awakened by shooting and hurrying to the rear of the house fell over the dead bodies of the boys. She stopped to lift them when a fusillade of shots came from the darkness. She crawled to the kitchen and gave the alarm. Seven have been arrested, five of them blood relatives of the family. The police have no motive for the assassination.

ASKS REVIEW

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 13.—The Hocking Valley R. R. Co. and Sunday Creek company today asked the Supreme court to review their conviction in the Federal courts of Ohio, for violation of the interstate commerce laws against discriminations.

BRYAN IN CANAL TOLLS CONTEST

Washington, April 13.—Secretary Bryan has thrown himself in the canal tolls fight, and by doing so has raised another issue. He charges in effect that the tolls exemption plank in the Baltimore platform was inserted through subterfuge, without the convention realizing the full meaning of the declaration.

Secretary Bryan also justifies the repudiation of the tolls exemption plank because it is in contradiction of another plank in the same platform against direct or indirect ship subsidies. The latter he describes as the larger plank of the two.

Mr. Bryan was a member of the resolutions committee of the Baltimore convention.

Mr. Bryan said in part: "A platform is a pledge and is binding upon an official as the command of a military officer is upon a subordinate—the statement can not be made stronger. But the subordinate officer is sometimes compelled to act upon his judgment where a change of which the commanding officer is not aware has taken place in conditions."

"The president, knowing that every commercial nation except our own construes the treaty as a pledge of equal treatment, would have been recalcitrant to his trust had he failed to point out to the American people that our diplomatic relations would be seriously disturbed by the carrying out of the free tolls policy."

"What has Great Britain done to justify the accusation that she is trying to dictate to this country? She has simply called attention to the terms of the treaty and asked for arbitration of the question of construction in case this government differs from the British government in the construction to be placed upon the language."

"In the controversy over the Welland canal Canada withdrew a discrimination which she had made in favor of Canadian ships in order that no cause for friction with the United States authorities in regard to the matter should exist.

"Why can not the United States withdraw a discrimination for the same reason? The 'surrender to England' argument is being used now just as it has been used in the past and for the benefit of the same selfish interests, but now that the people have secured tariff reduction they can no longer be frightened by this subterfuge."

Cites Two Questions.

"When we come to consider the real measure upon its merits there are just two questions to be decided: 'First, is it desirable for the Democratic party to abandon its historic position and become the advocate of subsidies and bounties, and second, if it is desirable, what is the Democratic party willing to sacrifice in international prestige and in world influence in order to secure the advantage which these subsidies promise to a few people?'"

"No party can afford to adopt a principle without considering how far the principle extends or what its adoption involves. In the past the Democratic party has been able to consistently oppose every form of governmental favor because it has stood for equal rights to all and special privilege to none."

"The chief executive speaks for the nation in international affairs, and it is only fair to assume that he speaks advisedly when he declares that intercourse with other nations is seriously embarrassed by the free tolls law which he seeks to repeal."

"If our nation desires to be measured by intellect and ethical standards how unworthy to brag of our strength and to threaten to use that strength. 'We are ready to fight' does not arouse the enthusiasm that it did a few centuries ago. Brute force is not the level upon which this nation settles its controversies today; the question is not what we can do but what we ought to do."

STRIKE BROKEN

By Associated Press.

Hancock, Mich., April 13.—The copper mine workers who have been on a strike since July 23, last, have voted to call off the strike, according to an announcement made today by Chas. E. ## INDICTED FOR CONSPIRACY

By Associated Press.

Houghton, Mich., April 13.—Chas. H. Moyer and 37 other officers and members of the Western Federation of Miners, must stand trial under indictments charging them with conspiracy in the copper mine strike.

A motion to quash the indictments was denied by Judge O'Brien.

SECOND TRIAL

By Associated Press.

New York, April 13.—The second trial of Chas. Becker, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will begin May 4th.

RELATIVES WILL CLAIM BODIES

By Associated Press.

Sing Sing, Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—The only relatives of the gunmen in the prison at the time of the execution were Dago Frank's mother, sister and brothers and Whitie Louis' brothers. Mrs. Cirofici was carried to a carriage in a state of collapse an hour afterward. All the bodies will be claimed by relatives.

Mrs. Cirofici remained with her son as late as 4:00 a. m. She pleaded with him to confess, but he said he had told all he knew and that he had not been present at the killing of Rosenthal.

GRAVE PROBLEMS ARE FACED BY THE CHINESE

By Associated Press.

Peking, April 13.—That Yuan Shikai's government is faced with a serious financial crisis is the opinion of a substantial body of foreigners in Peking and the Treaty Ports of China. These men predict foreign financial control or a foreign public debt commission. The difficulty of the situation is that the President and his supporters are, up to the present, unable to obtain money from the provinces for the administrative requirements of the central government. A letter to the President from the Tuhuh military governor of Hunan, accompanying a remittance of $200,000, contains an interesting statement of the case from a practical Chinese point of view. Tang Hsiang-ming, the Tuhuh, says:

"Of late the country has been in a turmoil of civil strife and frontier trouble, and scarcely a day has passed without some military operations. After your Excellency suppressed the internal troubles and made peaceful settlement with the Powers, the first thing that attracted your attention was the financial administration. Foreign loans have been resorted to to relieve the country's financial embarrassment, but owing to the fact that the terms of the foreign syndicates were too harsh, some patriotic people have suggested ways of collecting taxes while others propose a retrenchment policy. But all these specious words and theories can do no real good to the country."

"During this critical period there seems to be hardly any remedy for the country's financial troubles. When I read the documents from the Central Government stating its financial difficulties and the orders of your Excellency, I give vent to my grief in sobs and tears, like everyone else who has the sense of patriotism."

"We are in duty bound to relieve the embarrassment of the government. If the provinces do not help, national bankruptcy will result and the nation will lose its independence. And if the nation is obliterated, how could the province of Hunan exist alone? I hereby remit the sum of $400,000 (Mexican) to the government."

"It would be born in mind that the financial condition of Hunan is quite different from that of other provinces. It would be easy for other provinces to raise double the amount. Our remittance, though not large, is sufficient to display our patriotism and anxiety for the solution."

(Signed) Tang Hsiang-ming."

This gift, as it might be called, from the province of Hunan, small as it is, is exceptional. As a rule little or nothing can be got from the provinces; they are, on the contrary, continually calling upon the central government for assistance, the Tuhuh threatening that rebellion, or brigandage and looting that will implicate the government with foreigners, will result unless the assistance is forthcoming.

The President and his supporters, by employing the army, succeeded in suppressing the rebellion of last summer; but they have not been able to stamp out the elements of disorder. Indeed, in order to do this they would have to abolish the army itself—a mercenary situation, as the frontier fighting and the recent rebellions have shown, lacking discipline and not yet developed above the idea that the privilege of soldiers is the right to plunder. Yet the President has not the power to disband several hundred thousand men in arms.

In desperation the government is now endeavoring to obtain another large loan from the Quintuple Group of Bankers, composed of French, German, British, Japanese and Russian banks, supported by their respective governments. It will be remembered that last year's 25,000,000 pound loan was the cause of a considerable outbreak among Parliamentary members against Yuan Shikai and was one of the prominent causes of the rebellion of last summer. Feeling that Yuan's government is too disorganized and unstable to trust with another large loan, the Quintuple Legations are requiring the banks to stipulate what amounts to foreign control of China's finances for a period of, it is stated, fifty years, as a condition of any further extensive borrowing.

Up to the present the government has refused this condition and is getting along as best it can with small loans at high interest, parts of which are sometimes taken out in arms, ammunition and other necessities of the ministries. Sometimes railway and other concessions are granted for such uncontrolled loans. But it is believed that the day of reckoning will soon arrive.

cannot be divided into types according to nationality but that it is absolutely international in character will be demonstrated by a special exhibit of paintings by Anglada, the Spanish master, at the coming Exhibition of Fine Arts at Venice.

He has been honored with an invitation to show his pictures in a separate room, and the exhibit will be composed entirely of feminine portraits.

Within two years it is expected that the pavilions of the different countries around the Central Palace of the Venice group of art buildings will be completed by the addition of those of Germany, Austria and the United States on the island of Sant Elena, which will be connected with the gardens of the Exhibition by three beautiful bridges.

CAPTAIN YOUNG ASKS FOR JUSTICE

The action of the grand jury in ignoring the case against W. T. Strobel, who was up on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and who pleaded guilty to the same in police court, has made the railroad policemen especially very much put out. Captain Young, superintendent of police for the B. & O. S. W., said this morning:

"I do not think it is right for the grand jury to so arbitrarily act in the manner in which it did in this case, and some others where the law was plainly violated. The law against carrying concealed weapons now in Ohio makes that act a felony and, of course, the defendant must be bound over to the grand jury for final action. But the grand jury really has no province, so far as I see, of setting the law aside in a case as plain as that of Strobel. He was arrested and brought to police headquarters and was found to have a modern big quick action revolver strapped on him. We policemen are required to give bond in the sum of $100 for the privilege of carrying a revolver to protect our lives in the pursuit of our duty, and these are the kind of men we bump into, and any one of them may at any time take a notion to puncture one of us with a bullet, yet when they are arrested and found to be walking arsenals, plainly in defiance of the law, which provides a penitentiary sentence, the grand jury ignores the case."

"The law was passed in Ohio to discourage this very practice of toting pistols, and the courts are minimizing the offense, which results in the law really becoming a dead letter."

"It is from such men as these who carry revolvers that half of the other crimes come from, murder, assault, shooting with intent to kill, etc. If the penalty was enforced for gun toting, the practice would soon become unpopular and the gun toter would be a rara avis."—Scioto Gazette.

THEN AND NOW

By Associated Press.

THEN.

Ninety-six years ago today, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the first United States flag of the present design was hoisted over the House of Representatives at Washington.

It had twenty stars and thirteen stripes. The flag had been made in New York by the wife of Captain S. O. Reid, famous as the commander of the privateer General Armstrong. Mrs. Reid sent it by mail to Congressman Wendover, who had been sponsor for the new act by which the law of 1794, providing a new stripe and a new star for each state, was changed to require only a new star for each state. Thirteen stripes were to be preserved to represent the original colonies.

The law making the new banner the official flag of the United States became effective July 4, 1818.

NOW.

Nearly a hundred million people live beneath that flag today as compared with less than 10,000,000 ninety-six years ago, and it waves over a combined area several times greater than that represented by its twenty states in 1818. Its westernmost recognition was then along the Mississippi river. Today the 48 states sweep unbrokenly across the continent.

The flag has also been planted over the Philippines, over numerous strategic islands in the Pacific, over the enormous area of Alaska and at the new gateway of oceans at Panama.

Several years ago it was carried around the world by a fleet of American battleships, and just five years ago it was planted at the North Pole by Commodore Peary.

ITALIAN WOMEN ARE UP IN ARMS

By Associated Press.

Rome, April 13.—With the passing of the Giolitti Cabinet the leaders of the feminist movement in Italy have taken up a new campaign, in the hope that the new ministers of the government will deal more favorably with their cause.

There is no militant element in the feminist movement of Italy, and no sex-antagonism, but women are anxious to free themselves from certain restrictions which the laws of the land and the customs of society have imposed. Originally designed for the protection of women, it is declared these laws are now a burden. The vote is the woman's ultimate goal but at present they are hoping particularly for the opening of the professions to them and the repeal of such laws as those prohibiting a married woman from opening a bank account without the consent of her husband.

That Garden Seed Catalogue

The highly illustrated garden and flower seed catalogues have served their purpose again, and, as is usual, this time of the year, the thrifty householder with spade and hoe, hies himself to the small patch of ground in the rear of the lot and proceeds with the work of applying the acid test to himself and to his visions of beauty and profit.

The man who invented the regulation seed catalogue was a real public benefactor. The highly colored illustrations contained in the catalogue fire the ambition of the amateur gardener as nothing else can do.

For the men who make a business of gardening—the men who work at gardening and nothing else and only for the sake of the profit it produces—the glowing catalogue has no charm.

But for the man who works in shop, factory or store for his living and “gardens” a little on the side for exercise and for the sake of getting his vegetables fresh out of the ground for his own table the garden seed catalogue is a source of joy during many a long evening in the latter part of winter.

Not only that but the man who “gardens” for his health is inspired by the glowing accounts and vivid illustrations and that inspiration is the real incentive which causes him to do more real physical work than he could be coaxed, begged or driven into doing by any other means.

The men who make a business of truck farming and gardening are fired by no such inspiration.

With them it is a grind and they save their garden seeds from their own plants paying little or no attention to the fancy catalogue.

There is no more pleasant occupation and no more healthful exercise for the man who is confined during the working hours of the day than to get out in the garden patch during the cool of the evenings or in the early morning and dig in the ground.

Few indeed are the men who would engage in work which meant blistered hands and sore joints brave the angry glances of the good house wife, when mud is tracked across the clean kitchen floor, unless inspired by the pictures and the language of the garden seed catalogue.

The man who invented the attractive seed catalogue not only had an eye to business but he was a real friend to man.

Each summer when the weather gets hot and the weeds grow abundantly, the enthusiasm accumulated during the winter months vanishes. It takes a wonderfully good production of garden stuff to carry the city gardener into the autumn season without a shortage in the treasury of enthusiasm. But the winter season and the seed catalogue creates a surplus each year and the man who in August announces “never again for me”, is at it again with renewed energy when spring comes.

General Readjustment Hopeful Sign
of Times

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT SIGN OF THE TIMES IS NOT THE INCREASE OF WEALTH OR EVEN THE INCREASE OF MONOPOLY OR THE REBELLION AGAINST IT, OF WHICH SO MUCH IS SAID, MORE POWERFUL AND MORE IMPORTANT THAN EITHER IS THE INCREASE OF THE SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS, THE RECOGNITION OF HUMAN VALUES AND THE READJUSTMENT GOING ON ALL OVER THE LAND. THE WHOLE INDUSTRIAL WORLD IS SHOT THROUGH AND THROUGH WITH ETHICAL AND MORAL FORCES.

The great corporations have learned that they MUST CEASE TO BE MASTERFUL AND MUST BECOME SERVANTS. They have learned that when they seek to govern they find public opinion stronger than they. Let us hope that the day is past when men can by controlling the brute power of cash exercise mastery over the purposes, the initiative and the acts of their fellows.

Few Monopolies
Exist Outside of Public Utilities

By Dr. CHARLES R. VAN HISE,
President University of Wisconsin

IT must be borne in mind in framing new legislation aimed at the destruction of monopoly that FEW IF ANY MONOPOLIES TODAY EXIST OUTSIDE OF THE PUBLIC UTILITIES. It must also be remembered that modern tendencies in the press, periodicals, on the stump and in public debate have of late seriously CONFUSED MAGNITUDE WITH MONOPOLY. It must be the duty of the framers of legislation to differentiate clearly between mere bigness and monopolistic control of a character detrimental to the public welfare.

WHEREAS NOTHING SHOULD BE ENACTED WHICH WOULD LIMIT THE SHERMAN LAW IN ITS FUNCTION AS A PREVENTIVE OF MONOPOLY, IT MUST NOT BE FORGOTTEN THAT WE ARE LIVING IN AN AGE OF CO-OPERATION IN EVERY LINE OF PRODUCTIVE ENDEAVOR. THIS CO-OPERATION IS BY NO MEANS CONFINED TO THE GREAT CONCERNS ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES. IT EXISTS BETWEEN THE TWO DEALERS IN ICE AND AMONG THE THREE DEALERS IN ANTHRACITE IN MY HOME TOWN OF MADISON JUST AS MUCH AS IT EXISTS IN CHICAGO OR NEW YORK IN THE GREATEST BUSINESSES.

LET IT BE SAID OF ME.

Let it be said of me—
Not that my wit was subtlest of them all;
Not that its thrust was keenest; that the fall
Of him, my foe, was compassed by my act;
That I was versed in language, lore or fact;
Not that I had the gift of speech to sway
A multitude to think the other way;
Not that the world of customs was my guide;
Not that in rich possessions was my pride.

Let it be said of me—
Not that I strove and ran and won the prize,
And blocked the way when others sought to rise;
Not that my voice was heard in wild hurrah
When ancient license posed as higher law;
Not that my eyes were blind when sham was set
To dazzle folly into mild regret;
Not that my ears were deaf to sob and cry
Beneath the wheels when splendor hurried by.

Let it be said of me—
Wherever there was holy cause to serve,
Or hearts that ache, or perils that unnerve;
Wherever there was arduous tasks to do,
A path to light, a duty to pursue;
Wherever there was a child to wrest from wrong,
Or weary soul athirst for love and song,
Wherever slaves of time cried to be free,
My hand was reached—let it be said of me.

DELEGATES
OF REPEAL

Washington, April 13.—President Wilson and his advisers apparently are becoming concerned over the fate of the Panama canal tolls question in the senate. Two members of the cabinet issued statements defending the administration measure.

By authority of the Democratic national committee a statement has been issued designed to show that a considerable majority of the delegates in the Baltimore convention in 1912 did not know of the presence in the platform of the plank indorsing the exemption clause. This statement further contends that a majority of the delegates are with the president on the issue despite the platform declaration.

Mr. Redfield, the secretary of commerce, argued the tolls question from a business standpoint. He made the claim that the shippers most directly concerned will not be adversely affected if required to pay tolls.

Mr. Bryan's formal approval of the action of the administration in turning its face on the Baltimore platform tolls plank is expected to arouse a storm of criticism. Democratic opponents of the administration bill also express resentment over the action of the Democratic national committee.

STATE INSPECTOR
TESTING METERS

Inspector Charles V. Critchfield of the State Public Utilities Department was here yesterday, making tests of some of the gas meters about which there has been complaints, as well as testing the quality of gas furnished local consumers.

Mr. Critchfield first called upon Mayor Cahill and secured a list of names of some of the persons who complained about the low pressure of gas and the “high pressure” gas bills, during the cold spell of several weeks ago. Employees of the gas company assisted him to remove some of these meters, which he carefully tested in the rear room of the company's offices on West Main street.

Mr. Critchfield had with him his own tools and testing appliances and made the tests according to usual methods prescribed by the state department. The gas was tested as to the amount of heat units contained. He finished his work in the afternoon and returned to Columbus, taking with him a lot of data from which he will prepare his report to be submitted to the Public Utilities Commission.—Chillicothe News.

DESERTED IN '61, SHE SUES.

For Thirty Years She Lived Near Husband, Unaware of His Existence.
San Francisco.—Contending that she was legally married to Hiram Hughson in 1860 and had thought him dead since 1861, Mrs. F. H. Brigham has filed suit in Modesto, Cal., for the widow's share of the $600,000 estate left by Hughson, who died intestate three years ago.

Mrs. Brigham alleges that a year after their marriage in Norwich, N. Y., fifty-three years ago Hughson left his home, saying he was going to seek his fortune in California and promising to send for her later. But she never heard from him again.

Thinking him dead, she married Brigham and moved to Ventura, Cal., in 1880, and for more than thirty years she lived half a day's ride from Hughson's home without knowing it. The truth was revealed by accident recently to a man whose father knew of her marriage to Hughson in New York, and the presentation of the claim followed.

Hughson prospered as a rancher after coming to California. In 1864 he married Luella R. Avery, a school teacher in Stockton. The second Mrs. Hughson, with whom he had ten children, took charge of the estate upon her husband's death.

LAWYERS MAKE A VAIN APPEAL

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Governor Glynn for the fifth time refused to reprieve the gunmen. For an hour and a half he and his legal advisers listened to a final plea from Judge Wahle and the judge's partner, H. L. Kringel, who placed before the governor the evidence submitted to Judge Goff upon the application for a new trial. Governor Glynn listened to everything Judge Wahle had to say and then retired to his private room with his attorneys. After half an hour the governor announced to Judge Wahle that he was very sorry, but that nothing had been presented thus far which would cause him to interfere with the electrocution of the gunmen.

Judge Wahle left for New York. “It is all over,” he announced, as he came out of the executive chamber. “The governor has been very good to us, but announced he could see no reason which would make him interfere. If political ambitions were not mixed up in this case we would either have had a new trial or a reprieve.”

Dynamo Wrecked.

Sing Sing, N. Y., April 13.—An attempt was made by some one in the prison to prevent the execution of the gunmen by putting the dynamo attached to the electric chair out of commission. Some one, believed to have been a second term, who had access to the electric power house, armed with a wrench and other tools, ruined the new machinery. Another dynamo was connected with the chair.

GALLON TO RUN
AUTO 53 MILES

Mr. Jacob Hedges was showing on the street today an invention of his and Mr. Hammack which seems likely to make them famous as well as wealthy.

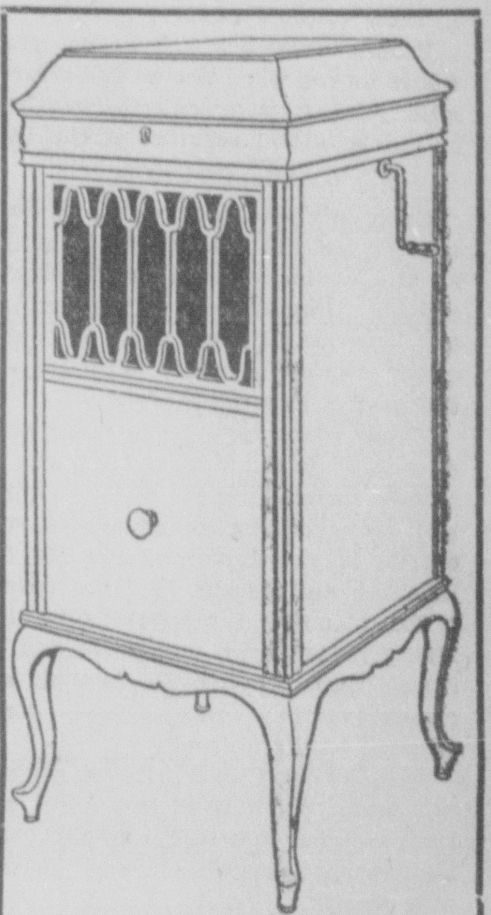

It is a device for saving gasoline in the operation of an automobile. A small tube is attached to the manifold and the gasoline is mixed with hot air produced by the exhaust.

Mr. Hedges claims that he has run fifty three miles on a gallon of gasoline with this attachment and as the ordinary average is about fifteen to twenty, it will be a great saving to the owner of one of these pleasure cars.

Mr. Hedges and Mr. Hammack have applied for a patent and hope to soon have the device manufactured. It looks like a good thing.—Lancaster Eagle.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES IN ALL CHURCHES

Brilliant Easter Programs Are Rendered and Great Crowds Throng the Places of Worship to Enjoy Exquisite Music and Appropriate Sermons Marking Easter-tide—Perfect Day Draws Thousands From Home.

Easter morning was ushered in gloriously, with birds caroling the advent of spring in sweet melodies, and the budding earth bathed in golden sunshine. It was that rarest of days—a perfect Easter Sunday—and all the more appreciated, following the gloom of Saturday.

Easter bonnets were given full opportunity and came out in a continuous Easter parade. The whole earth seemed in tune with the joyous Easter-tide.

But, as always, the true glory of the resurrection day, was found in the churches, where triumphant Easter anthems swelled in glad melody, where words of eloquence told of the risen Savior and where Easter flowers offered the fragrance of their radiant beauty.

People crowded the churches, many whose names were not on the church rolls joining with church members in the beautiful services of the day.

GRACE CHURCH.

Great audiences at Grace church appreciated the fine music rendered by the choir, under Miss Gardner's capable direction, at both morning and evening services, and the eloquent Easter sermons preached by the pastor, Rev. F. E. Ross.

There was a very large choir, supplemented at the morning services by Messrs. Kneisley and Smith, violinists; Messrs. Johnson and Adams, cornetists in the morning, and Messrs. Kneisley and Adams in the evening.

The fact that the regular organist, Miss Minnie Light, was prevented by illness from playing the difficult accompaniments, necessitated some changes in the program.

Mrs. Mabel Calvert Blessing took the organ, with only two days' notice, and her splendid work in solos and accompaniments showed remarkable ability.

All of the Easter anthems were rendered with good volume, vigor and fine shading. Especially beautiful was the anthem, "O King Immortal," with violin obligato by Mr. Kneisley and incidental solos by Miss Ruth Parrett, who possesses a very sweet soprano voice, and Miss Pauline Pine, a pleasing contralto. The movement and spirit of this anthem was vibrant with Easter joy.

The vested choir was imposing and the decorations were particularly effective, the chancel massed with palms and in the center rising a tall vase of ascension lilies.

Special tribute was paid to Easter in the Sunday school services of Grace church. The Men's and Women's Bible classes, numbering between two and three hundred, joined together for a very interesting service.

Mrs. F. G. Carpenter read the beautiful story, "The Young King," and a quartet, Misses Gardner, Bess Cleaveland, Pauline Pine and Helen Teters sang quartets.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Easter morning services at the Presbyterian church was markedly impressive, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper being observed and also the baptism of children, and reception of new members. A large number of the hundred and twenty received during the past year responded to the roll call of the pastor, Rev. Wm. B. Gage.

Lending its undercurrent of Easter beauty was special music by the choir, an exceptionally brilliant anthem, "Rejoice! the Lord is Risen" with the solos taken by Mrs. Werter Shoop and Miss Ada Woodward. A wealth of Easter flowers banked the chancel in graceful arrangement.

Prefacing the dignified church service was an Easter program presented at the Sunday school. It was in charge of "The Class in the Corner," Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock, chairman, and was generally pronounced the prettiest Easter entertainment ever presented by the Sunday school.

The piece de resistance was a pantomime, "The Holy City," by "The Doers," with Miss Ada Woodward singing the glorious Easter solo in her fresh young soprano, and the pantomime presented by graceful maidens, in roles of white and shining crowns.

There were songs and exercises by the Primary department, the "Busy Bells," the babies of Kinderland, and the Sunbeams. Miss Lillian Davis played for the entire program.

Miss Helen Bishop gave a reading and Rev. Henness, Ph. D., a little talk on "Scenes at the Sepulchre."

In the evening a magnificent audience, beyond the capacity of church, Sunday school and galleries, enjoyed one of the most beautiful Easter cantatas ever sung by the choir, "The Risen King," Schaecker.

The music was replete with exquisite harmonies and superbly rendered by a choir of between 30 and 40 voices, augmented by Mr. Smith and Miss Kessler, violinists; Mr. Chas. Johnson, alto horn; Mr. Elmer Zimmerman, bass horn, and Mrs. Lillie G. Davis fine organ support. The chorister, Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson, is to be congratulated upon the way in which the choir responded to her efforts throughout the entire cantata.

The tenor and bass was unusually strong and the men's fine choral work a notable feature of the program.

Mr. L. L. Bowman, whose fine baritone is a power in itself, rendered a very beautiful solo, and Mrs. Wert Shoop and Mrs. Arthur Burgett sang the soprano and contralto solos in the anthems perfectly.

Miss Kessler's violin solo, Chanson d'Amour, Froelich, was artistically played.

Throughout the evening's program in both solos and anthems Mrs. Davis surpassed her always admirable organ work and the processional by the white robed choir was singularly effective. Mr. Smith's violin solo was a feature of the entrance processional.

FIRST BAPTIST.

There were beautiful services, largely attended, both morning and evening at the First Baptist church.

Miss Elizabeth Sheen directed the choir in a morning "Service of Song," and again in the evening in special Easter music.

A full choir sang buoyant Easter anthems with good attack and expression, the solos admirably taken by Miss Sheen and Mr. Albert Burch. Miss Sheen's contralto solos were beautiful features of the evening service.

Mrs. J. H. Hicks presided at the piano, owing to the illness of the pianist, Miss Mabel Briggs.

Rev. West delivered two impressive sermons, the morning sermon on "The Resurrection of Jesus," especially significant of the day.

Easter decorations were artistically carried out in white azaleas and ascension lilies, with a profusion of greenery.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The Sunday school of the Church of Christ ushered in the very attractive Easter services of the day with a special program, in charge of Miss Mabel Jones, superintendent.

The young ladies' Glee club furnished music and there were pleasing recitations and dialogue. An Easter offering was taken for the benevolences of the church.

At the morning service Rev. Hostetter preached a strong Easter sermon on "The Resurrection of the Nazarene," and the choir, under the efficient leadership of Mr. Clifford Ervin sang joyous Easter Anthems.

The Junior Endeavor society rendered an excellent program in the afternoon, Miss Della Cartwright having it in charge.

The song service in the evening drew a packed house and was exceedingly good. The anthems and Easter hymns were splendidly sung and Mrs. O. G. Blackwell added a lovely solo to the program.

Solo parts in the anthems were taken by Mrs. Grace Campbell, Mrs. Oran Toops and Mrs. Mary Hyer.

Mrs. Lon Marks was pianist for all the services. The pastor gave a brief sermon at the evening service. Many beautiful spring flowers lent added attraction.

EPISCOPALIAN.

The Episcopalian services conducted at 11 o'clock, 3:30 and 7:30 by Archdeacon Dodson, were markedly impressive.

There was a profusion of flowers and special Easter music, under the leadership of Miss Jessie Leavell, of Bloomingburg.

ST. COLMAN'S.

Easter services at St. Colman's church surpassed all those of previous years. The principal mass of the day was celebrated at 7:30 in the presence of a large crowd.

The front pews in the middle aisle were reserved for the Holy Name society, recently organized to abolish profane language. These men received holy communion in a body, in company with every member of the congregation. The sight was most impressive and edifying as the constant procession to the communion railing showed that each society had turned out en masse to receive their Risen Lord.

This large number was indeed a fitting testimony of the splendid work which has been carried on by Rev. Father Fogarty since his taking charge of the parish.

The altars were adorned with a profusion of cut flowers, and lighted by tall waxen tapers and electric lights.

The music of this mass was rendered by the children's choir. The hymns of joy and praise were sung unusually well by the childish voices.

The final services took place at 9:30. After the high mass Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given, closing the services of the day. The male choir was in charge of the music at these services.

A. J. Bock's mass in D was rendered under the direction of Mr. Chas. Cullen. A duet was sung at the Offertory by Miss Regina McDonald and Mr. Cullen.

Rev. Father Fogarty delivered eloquent sermons at both masses. His forceful talk included many beautiful and consoling lessons to be drawn from Christ's resurrection from the tomb. He also expressed his praise for the interest manifested by his congregation in all the Lenten devotions and their worthy preparation for the great feast which they celebrated so impressively yesterday.

HOW A BROOKLYN GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again. Grace D. Lamb, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was all run-down and on the verge of nervous prostration. I could not sleep for pain in my back. In all I was a wreck. A friend told me what Vinol had done for her little girl so I tried it. I noticed an improvement after the first bottle. I could sleep well, my appetite improved, and after taking three bottles I am strong and well again."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

SENATOR CUMMINS FLAYS UNSCRUPULOUS RAILROADS

In Speech Before Senate This Afternoon Charge Is Made That Railroads are Seeking Sympathy to Obtain Much Desired Increase Which Means More in One Year Than All Panama Canal Tolls in 12 to 15 Years.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Senator Cummins charged on the floor of the Senate today that a persistent and widespread campaign was being conducted to arouse public sympathy for the request for a five per cent increase in freight rates on eastern railroads, now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The senator expressed confidence that the Commission would decide this question on its merits, but said the public was being misled by incorrect and exaggerated statements.

Senator Cummins compared the railroad situation with the Panama canal tolls question, declaring that an advance in railroad rates of five per cent will amount in one year to more than all the tolls paid by all the ships that will go through the canal in twelve or fifteen years and more than American coastwise ships, if they paid full tolls, would be charged in half a century.

"In connection with the proceedings before the Commission," he continued, "there is in progress the most comprehensive, energetic and persistent campaign that I have ever witnessed to make the people of the country believe that the effort of the government to regulate railways, railway rates and railway practices has resulted in dismal, disastrous failure; that the government in its endeavor to protect the people has impoverished the transportation companies; that it has driven them to the very verge of bankruptcy and ruin; that it has destroyed their credit and rendered them incapable of performing the services which commerce demands; that it has outlawed them from the confidence of capital and exiled them from the field of the investor."

"This extraordinary campaign has filled the newspapers with headlines, with dispatches, with letters and with editorials. It has taken possession of the magazines out of which, week after week issue appeals for justice to the decadent railroads and to despondent railroad managers, and it gives dinners and holds public banquets where the eloquence of orators paints lurid pictures of empty treasuries, of worn-out tracks, of falling bridges and dilapidated equipment."

"I do not assert that the campaign is being carried on to affect the Commission," he continued, "for the railroad companies know that it cannot be swerved a hair's breadth from the path of its duty, but I do assert that the movers of this campaign are trying to do an infinitely more obnoxious thing. They are trying to mislead and pervert the judgment of the people. They are trying to awaken sympathy by false pretense. They are trying to deceive the country with exaggerated cries of suffering and distress in order to escape the control which experience has demonstrated should be imposed upon all corporations which undertake a public service."

The senator denied that the people of the United States are hostile to the railroads and said that every one desired that all railroads be well constructed and well operated. He did not doubt that there were some rates which should be increased, and some which should be decreased.

Senator Cummins recalled that substantially all the railroad rates now prevailing were made by the railroads themselves and added that in his opinion ninety-five per cent of the freight revenues of the railroads are derived from interstate freight rates made and published without any interference upon the part of the government. He added that he believed that the physical condition of the railroads is better now than ever before in their history.

AID SOCIETY MEETING.
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Jennie Mark on East Temple street, Wednesday, April 15, at 2:30 o'clock. Every member should be present as there is business which must be attended to at this meeting. Please come. Refreshments will be served and a program given.

COMING FROM MANY STATES

Monday, April 20th, just one week from today, will bring with it the opening of the Horse Show and judging from the opening sale of seats the attendance will be sufficient to cover every available seat in the house.

Reservations have been made for parties from Buffalo, Cleveland and Dayton which goes to indicate the interest shown at a distance, in our local show.

Much has been said of the passing of the horse, but that today he is even more popular than ever, is indicated by the increased number of entertainments being staged at which the horse is the big attraction.

Race meetings are increasing in number from extreme East to extreme West and Ohio horses can be found competing for first honors.

The same is true of the Horse Show field, Ohio has each year produced her share of winners, which are competing under many different owners' colors.

Last season the leading stable of show horses from Kansas City was headed by an Ohio production.

Those who take pleasure in music and horses will enjoy a rare treat during the coming event as the display promises well and coupled with probably the most popular musical organization in this section, will afford a rich feast of pleasure.

The presence of Gov. Cox at the opening performance will afford a good opportunity to see the Governor enjoying his favorite diversion as he has always been associated in some way with light harness horses and now owns among others on his farm a Fayette county product.

Politics will have nothing to do with his visit and those who are fortunate enough to meet him will find him a genial visitor.

Horses shown at the different performances will be an example of our varied kinds produced in the county and will be worth the time spent in inspecting them.

COLORED MAN IS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

Ed Henderson, the colored man who was arrested one night last week on suspicion of being insane and who manifested many symptoms of being temporarily deranged, was Sunday morning given his freedom.

The man had become perfectly rational, and laughed about posing for a moving picture machine, and about having killed his mother.

"I stopped in a saloon at Cumminsville, this side of Cincinnati, and got a bottle of whiskey. That was two weeks ago. I have been drunk ever since."

Sheriff Nelson purchased a ticket for him for Chillicothe, and saw him aboard the train. He announced his intention of going from Chillicothe to Covington.

BORTON-VINCENT.

The marriage of Miss Iva Jane Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Vincent and Mr. Orville J. Borton, of near Port William, will be surprising news to many young friends.

The bridegroom announced the marriage Easter at the beautiful country home of his parents, Sunday, at high noon. Relatives and close friends had witnessed the ceremony performed by Rev. Sultzbach.

The bride was charming in a lovely gown of white brocade with handsome lace trimming and carried a bouquet of fragrant white lilies. The impressive ring service was read by Dr. Sultzbach and immediately after the ceremony a delicious three-course dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Borton will make their future home on a big farm near Port William as Mr. Borton is engaged in farming with his father. Mr. Borton is one of Port William's popular young fellows in lodge and the P. W. H. school.

His bride is an attractive and accomplished young woman of Washington C. H. and both have scores of friends who will extend congratulations and good wishes to both young friends.

STILL RESISTING REBELS' ATTACK

Federals Under General Velasco
Hold Town of Parras.

VILLA DIRECTING OPERATIONS

General Carranza Given a Great Reception at Chihuahua, Where He Will Hold Conference With General Villa—Rebel Officers Crossing Into El Paso Will Hereafter Be Placed Under Arrest.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—Advices reaching Juarez were that the rebel army at San Pedro, east of Torreon, was being augmented rapidly by men from the Torreon garrison and that they are being outfitted for 10 days' marching in pursuit of the federals.

The federal band which was defeated at San Pedro, instead of going toward Monterrey, as at first expected, headed for Saltillo, the report says. The federals at Parras, said to be under the command of General Refugio Velasco, which evacuated Torreon, were still resisting the rebel attack at last reports.

Juarez was principally occupied with discussing the coming meeting of Carranza and Villa at Chihuahua. Carranza was given a reception at Chihuahua, which he reached without incident on his trip from Juarez. A bullfight, a parade of troops and other entertainments were given in his honor at Chihuahua. Villa is expected there as soon as he considers that the fighting at Torreon is going sufficiently favorable to him to permit his leaving.

Captain Harry N. Cootes, United States army provost marshal for the military patrol district of El Paso, has ordered the arrest of all rebel officers crossing to El Paso, and this has created ill feeling in Juarez and is resulting in threats against Americans. Rebel officers have been in the habit of removing their swords and cartridge belts and coming freely to El Paso.

SEASON OPENS UP TOMORROW

Organized Ball Men Predict a Prosperous Season.

New York, April 13.—On the eve of the major league baseball season the executives and magnates of the American and National leagues predict another six months of exciting pennant races and general prosperity. Organized baseball, ignoring the invasion of its field by the newly-formed Federal group of owners and players, reiterates its faith in the loyalty of its followers and the standard of the game as played by its clubs.

Both President Ban Johnson of the American league and President John K. Tener of the National league, in outlining the prospects of their respective bodies for the 1914 campaign, express the belief that organized baseball will receive the confidence and support accorded it by the devotees of the game in past years. In fact, optimism, harmony and enthusiasm appear to be the words of the hour before the initial contests of tomorrow of the new baseball year. In the National league the Chicago Cubs will be the guests of the Cincinnati club.

The American association also opens its season tomorrow, Columbus playing at Louisville and Cleveland at Indianapolis.

Federal League Opening Today. Baltimore, April 13.—The Federal league championship season will be formally opened here today with a game between the Baltimore and Buffalo clubs.

PREVENTION OF FLOODS COVERED

Washington, April 13.—Causes of floods in the Ohio valley and specific recommendations for future prevention are set forth in the report of the special board of engineers appointed by Secretary Garrison to investigate last year's floods in the Ohio valley.

Reference is made to the need of educational work, such as has been done by the national drainage congress, whose headquarters are in Chicago. The report of the special board of engineers probably will be the keynote of the big convention to be held by the national drainage congress in Savannah the latter part of this month, and it is probable the report will be made public just before the convention is held.

PRINTERS SAY TRUST EXISTS

Columbus, O., April 13.—Battle forces, it is declared, that will assume national proportions within the next few months, were organized by the Ohio Typographical conference, in session in Columbus, to carry on a "war to the last ditch" against what the printers charge is a monopoly in restraint of trade fostered by the United States government through its postoffice department. The alleged "trust" is the Mercantile Corporation of Dayton, which holds the federal contract for the exclusive printing of stamped envelopes and stamped mailing wrappers. Charles Kroettinger of Columbus was unanimously elected president of the state conference for the ensuing year.

TWO CHARGED WITH MURDER

Pittsburg, April 13.—Dr. C. C. Meredith, a well-known local physician, and Miss Lucy D. Orr, a nurse in his employ, arrested a few days ago on an alleged charge of malpractice in connection with the death of Mrs. Myrtle Allison a year ago and released on bail, were rearrested by the county authorities, charged with murder. The action followed the exhuming of the body of a woman buried March, 1913, under the name of Daisy Davis, but which was identified as that of Mrs. Allison by N. L. Baxter, her brother.

DEMAND SALUTE

For Indignities Put Upon American
Marines at Tampico.

Washington, April 13.—The American flag will be given a national salute of 21 guns by the federal forces at Tampico.

Admiral Mayo's demand for this salute, as part of the reparation for the indignities put upon an American naval officer and marines at Tampico, is supported vigorously by this government and the rendering of the salute will be insisted upon. If necessary, a demonstration of force will be made to convince President Huerta and his commander at Tampico that this time the United States is backing up its word to the limit.

Charge O'Shaughnessy has been instructed to see Huerta again about the Tampico incident and impress upon him the seriousness of the affront which his military commander at Tampico offered the American naval men and the United States flag. It is likely that a more explicit apology will be demanded.

COXEY'S ARMY

Massillon, O., April 13.—Five hundred Massillon people cheered General J. S. Coxe when in a public meeting he asked them to escort to Canton his army of unemployed which he plans to lead to Washington. Coxe addressed hundreds of jobless men here and in Canton. The army of the commonweal, which is rapidly gathering here, will march this time, as before, afoot, carrying blankets on backs and sleeping out under the sky. Coxe expects to have his army live "off the fat of the land" during the progress of the long tramp.

MINIMUM WAGE

Columbus, O., April 13.—Secretary of State Graves said he has been informed by the Ohio Municipal Wage league of Cleveland that initiative petitions will shortly be put into circulation proposing to the next legislature the enactment of a minimum wage and eight-hour day law for all workers. Max Hayes, Cleveland labor leader, is president of the committee that is backing the proposition.

CHANGED MIND ABOUT DYING

Columbus, O., April 13.—Beverly Pinney, 23, is recovering at his home in Dublin, this county, after a double attempt at suicide, which involved not only the cutting of his throat with a razor, but a spectacular leap from a 40-foot bridge. Physicians say a remarkable vitality, together with an apparent change of mind while he was in the cold water into which he jumped, saved the youth's life.

PHYSICIAN DEAD

Fremont, O., April 13.—Dr. Peter Beaupre, probably the oldest physician in the United States and the oldest resident in Sandusky county, died at his home here after a three-day illness, due to old age. He was conscious until the end. Dr. Beaupre was born in Detroit Aug. 26, 1814.

GREASES AND SLIPS AWAY

Carroll, Self-Confessed Bandit,
Makes Sensational Escape.

Holidaysburg, Pa., April 13.—Frank G. Carroll, alias Wilson, the confessed bandit, who robbed the Union bank of Altoona and shot Cashier A. P. Rupert and William E. Blackburn on March 23, wriggled through a six-inch window opening in his cell in the Blair county jail at Holidaysburg, climbed up the outer wall to the roof and then fashioned a 40-foot rope out of his bed clothing by which he descended to the street below.

Nearby residents declared that a high-powered motorcar was stationed in the street close to the jail at the midnight hour. Carroll's only aid in the cell to escape was a bar of soap. With the soap he greased his naked body and the six-inch slit in the window, wriggled out snake-fashion and then, clad only in pajamas, fled to the recesses of the Allegheny mountains.

Carroll's wife and alleged accomplice in his exploits is lying ill and in the custody of officers at Salem, O.

TRAIN SAVED BY A MIRACLE

Harrison, N. Y., April 13.—"It must have been a miracle that saved this train from destruction," was the comment of W. J. Murphy, motorman of the Green Mountain express on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, as he staggered from his cab after it jumped the track while going 50 miles an hour, between Harrison and Rye. The train cars crashed against the stone wall on the side of the bridge over Sterling lane, tossed tons of stone aside as though straw, burrowed through sand and stopped after tearing a big steel pillar from its concrete foundation. Strange to say, not one of the 250 passengers on the train was injured. The only injured were W. J. Murphy, the motorman, bruises about the face, and James Hackett, mail clerk.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young—is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Washington, April 13. — President Wilson arrived here this morning from White Sulphur Springs in time to put in a full day on the strenuous program of work he has set for the week.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels reported to the president today in detail on the events at Tampico last week, which resulted in a demand by Admiral Mayo for an apologetic salute the American flag.

The house judiciary committee will be called to the White House to report upon the progress made with the bill to supplement the Sherman anti-trust act and to consult with the president upon the steps necessary to be taken before that measure, together with that creating an interstate trade commission, may be reported into the house.

During the week the president plans to hold a number of conferences with senators on the situation with regard to the tolls repeal. He will make a determined effort to bring the opposition to his program to a head as soon as possible, realizing as he does that the upper house will

Zanesville, O., April 13.—All building in Zanesville has been tied up by a strike, 50 bricklayers and 60 hod carriers walking out when their demands for a 5-cent raise and a 2½-cent raise an hour, respectively, were refused. Plumbers and carpenters have asked for an increase of 50 cents a day, but this has not yet been granted.

RADIUM AND CANCER

Much has appeared in the newspapers recently regarding the radium treatment for cancer. As showing the opinions held by scientific men in England, the London correspondent of The Journal of the American Medical Association reports a recent discussion on this subject. At the annual meeting of the governors of the Cancer Hospital of London, Mr. Charles Ryall, F. R. C. S., chairman of the medical committee, described the present position of radium treatment to cancer. He said that although a great deal had been written in the lay press of late concerning radium and the marvelous cures which it had apparently effected, radium had not come to supplant surgery in the treatment of cancer, but to aid it. Cancer was a disease which grew from day to day and eventually reached the incurable stage, and therefore for safety it must be got rid of as early as possible, and the quickest and surest means was still the knife. There were cases, however, in which operation was either inadvisable or impossible, and in these, radium and the Roentgen rays were resorted to.

Radium was the most active substance known, and it was proved that it had a definite action on living cells. In cancer it had been found to exert a definite action either by destroying the cancer-cells or by retarding or preventing their growth. The properties of radium were comparatively little known, and therefore radium treatment was in the experimental stage, in which attempts were being made to fathom its effect on disease, especially cancer, to estimate its dosage, and to classify what cases were suitable for treatment by it.

That would mean some years of work, and it would, therefore, be well if silence could be maintained on the subject for the next two years until some definite announcement could be made. A definite pronouncement with regard to research work might be awaited with confidence, as the radium research work in this country was being carried on systematically. There was an enormous field for research and treatment among the patients at that hospital, but the workers were hampered by the inadequate quantity of radium at their disposal and their inability to procure more owing to its scarcity and enormous cost.

DROPS 215 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Rochester, N. Y., April 13.—Standing at the railing of a bridge over the Genesee river, George Newman flipped a half-consumed cigaret from his fingers into the face of a man who was driving past in a carriage, then placed his hand on the bridge rail and vaulted lightly over. The fall is 215 feet. Newman's coat caught on one of the iron projections of the bridge rail, and he kicked himself free with his feet and took the plunge without a word. He struck on the rocks in the bottom of the gorge and not a bone in his body remained whole. The corpse was recovered. Newman was 30 years old and worked for a dental manufacturing company.

MORE CARE ORDERED IN FILM SHIPMENTS

Supplementing its regulations covering the transportation of explosives, inflammable and combustible materials, a circular has been issued to the agents of the Baltimore and Ohio System, embracing the Baltimore and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Staten Island railroads, defining the rules under which stereopticon outfits, moving picture films and cylinders containing compressed gasses must be handled.

These shipments will be accepted as passenger train baggage only when duly protected and labeled in such a manner as to indicate the contents of the packages. The cylinders of compressed gasses must contain a red label when the shipments are of an inflammable character. Cylinders containing non-inflammable contents must be tagged with a green label and motion-picture films must bear a yellow label. All such shipments must be properly labeled and certified as prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission's regulation for express.

Before motion picture films may be accepted for shipment, they must be packed in spark-proof metal cases enclosed in strong and tight wooden or fiberboard boxes or pulps. Or the reels will be accepted when packed in spark-proof cases of sheet-iron material of regulation thickness and lined with fiberboard at least one-eighth inch thick, or protected with other insulating material. The covers of film cases must form a tight joint, so as to eliminate the possibility of outside contact.

The development of the motion-picture business requires prompt and regular service in distributing the reels to the theaters served by the various syndicates, but the railroads have insured safety by the regulations adopted with the co-operation of the manufacturers.

Quickly Downs Twelve Beers; Then Swallows Timepiece.

Beaver Falls, Pa.—On a wager of $10 George Konterline performed a brand new beer feat. Just as the hour of 12 began to strike from a big clock in the tower of a bank building near by Konterline downed a glass of beer in a couple of gulps. He followed this with another glass at each stroke of the clock until he had emptied twelve glasses. Then he swallowed his watch, holding the chain in his teeth.

The amazed spectators were invited to place ears against Konterline's breast and hear the watch tick. When Konterline held the end of the chain between his fingers and jiggled it the submerged timepiece could be heard splashing in the beer.

Says Sun Will Run Mills.

London.—Sun power will replace coal as the source of industrial energy and heat. So predicted A. S. E. Ackermann to the Society of Engineers. When Europe's mills would close for lack of coal her manufacturers will find in upper Egypt a motive power many times greater than that now employed in them. Egypt's sun pours down 4,440 horsepower per acre.

GREATER IN ARGENTINA.

The only countries reported as having a greater per capita consumption of dressed meat than the United States are the Australian Commonwealth and Argentina. These, it is well known, are countries of sparse population and vast herds and flocks; hence meat is exceedingly cheap and the native consumption large and probably wasteful.

The per capita consumption of meat for Australia and Argentina is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 250 pounds per annum; it may possibly be even greater. The corresponding consumption for the United States was computed by the United States Bureau of Animal Industry to be 172 pounds in 1909, and it is estimated to be about 10 pounds less at the present time. This is much greater than the British consumption the largest in Europe, which is slightly under 120 pounds per inhabitant per annum.

TWO NEW BULLETINS.

Some of the fundamental factors in common use for growing of the strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, gooseberry and currant are dealt with in a new bulletin on "Small Fruits," just issued by the College of Agriculture.

"Even where markets are not available or not especially desired," says R. B. Cruickshank, author of the bulletin, "many farmers grow such of these fruits as may appeal to them for their own consumption. The common berries, beginning with the strawberry, will furnish fresh fruit during the entire season and some of them will be ready before the first tree fruits are ripe."

Another neatly illustrated bulletin written by Prof. W. R. Lazenby along popular lines on the subject of "Trees for Shade, Shelter and Ornament" is available at this time. Either or both may be obtained by addressing A. B. Graham, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Solving Centralization Problem.

The schools of Allen township, Union county, Ohio, are centralized. For the last two years the pupils from ten sub-districts have been hauled to one central building. As this is several miles from any town, the superintendent found some difficulty in renting a residence near the school house the first year.

However, the school board soon solved the difficulty not only for him but for his successors. They sold all the abandoned school buildings in the township and with the proceeds built a substantial two-story frame residence. This is located on the school ground which consists of several acres.

In addition to the residence and new school house, a large shed about 30 by 40 feet has been erected for the care of the rigs of those pupils who furnish their own means of transportation.

IN PUBLIC MEETING THE TAXPAYER WILL BE HEARD

An innovation that has been inaugurated by the State Tax Commission, and which will be welcomed by taxpayers all over the state, is the recent action of the commission in making it possible for taxpayers to have a voice in saying whether taxes shall be lowered, or allowed to remain unchanged.

The plan of the Commission is to have county auditors call public meetings with tax-spending officials, in which taxpayers may be present and take part in discussing what the tax rate shall be for the respective districts.

Heretofore the County Budget Commission, which this year consists of County Auditor Henkle, Mayor Chas. F. Coffey and president of the Washington School board, Dr. D. H. Rowe, has met and guided by the recommendations from the various taxing districts, have fixed the tax rate accordingly. In some instances the Budget Commission has met with the officials of some of the tax districts, where the problems faced were unusually difficult, and have then fixed the rate.

The same plan may be followed this year, but the State Tax Commission has conceived the idea of holding public meetings with the tax-spending officials, and inviting the taxpayers of the various districts to be present and discuss the needs of their respective districts before the rate is fixed.

When interviewed on the subject Messrs. Henkle, Coffey and Rowe unhesitatingly approved of the plan to allow the taxpayers of the county in public meeting with the board to have a voice in the fixing of the tax levies, and to counsel with them concerning the requirements, to the end that economy may be brought fully into play in the levying and spending of tax money. When the County Budget Commission takes up its duties, which will be after the officials of all taxing districts in the county have certified their requirements, Auditor Henkle will call a public meeting or meetings for the purposes above stated.

Regarding the matter, a dispatch from Columbus, says: "Taking advantage of the suggestion of the state tax commission, five county auditors already have announced they are going to hold public meetings with tax-spending officials to bring about reduction in the tax rates. They have sent notice to the state commission of their intentions and promise that before the county budget commissions, of which they are members, shall approve any tax rates, opportunity is to be given to the public, who pays the taxes to be heard."

"So prompt has been the response that the state commission expects that in nearly every county the idea will be taken up. Fully convinced that public hearings will crystallize the latent sentiment for lower tax rates, members of the tax commission stated they are highly pleased with the prospects. As evidence of the fact there is no partisan tinge, it is pointed out that Republican county auditors as well as Democrats took up the suggestion."

Has Reserve Powers.
It develops, however, that the commission has reserve powers for use in causing to be made public estimates. Under section 54 of the Warner act the commission is directed to "prescribe such general and uniform rules and regulations and issue such orders and instructions as it may deem necessary respecting the manner of the exercise of the powers and the discharge of the duties of any and all officers relating to the assessment of real and personal property and the levy and collection of taxes."

Should there develop a disposition on the part of the minority to refuse to give the people a chance to be heard—which the commission does not expect—it would have authority, apparently, to require public meetings as part of the rules. From the tone of the communications of county auditors, the commission believes there will be none who will not gladly take up the tax rate reduction proposal.

Leading off in the commission's suggestion are these auditors: Robert D. Alexander, of Ross County; Frank Fortune, of Ashtabula; John Dalton, of Richland; Charles A. Morelock, of Union; W. V. Aldrich, of Delaware, and Hugo F. Schneider, of Montgomery.

Reduction to Come.
Word was sent to the tax commission yesterday from Wooster that Charles Dieter, tax assessor of Wayne county, had completed his work in Rittman village, that county, had increased the personal property duplicate over $200,000 and that as a result the rate in that village would be reduced from $1.12 to 95 3-10 cents. This statement was based on the theory that the same amount of tax money would be raised this year in that village that was expended the previous 12 months.

In arriving at that rate no consideration was made for increases that will be made on incorporated companies by the district assessors and on public utilities by the state tax commission. The reduction given is 15 per cent. A review of Dieter's work shows three improved properties on the tax duplicate of Rittman village this year worth $5000 that never before have been taxed. One of the properties has been improved for three years, one seven years and one 10 years and never a cent of taxes was paid on them."

WIFE OF "LEFTY LOUIE" SEEKS FOR GLYNN'S PARDON

New York, April 13.—Mrs. Rosenberg, the pretty young wife of "Lefty Louie," one of the four gun men sentenced to die for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, made a final appeal in person before Governor Glynn for the pardon of her husband. She claims, it is said, that Harry Vallon, one of her husband's accusers, was the man who really fired the fatal bullets. The new trial of Lieutenant Becker, convicted with the gun men, will occur in May.

bullets. The murderers leaped into an automobile and escaped. Weeks later after Becker had been arrested, the gunmen were found in a flat in Brooklyn.

Their conviction, and Becker's, was based chiefly on the testimony of three go-betweens who turned state's evidence. These men, Jack Rose, Bridge Webber and Harry Vallon, declared that they had hired the gunmen to kill the gambler, Rosenthal, at Becker's request. Sam Schepps, a little gambler, corroborated their testimony, and was not adjudged an accomplice.

Becker was a police lieutenant in charge of the "strong arm squad" whose duties were to keep in subjection the gangs of the city and to regulate gambling houses and places of ill-fame. Rose, Webber and Vallon said that Becker had made use of his position to collect money from these houses. Rosenthal, according to these same witnesses, having a grievance against Becker, was about to give evidence against Becker to the District Attorney.

Becker was arrested July 29, 1912, but nearly two months elapsed before the apprehension of the gunmen. Their trial before Justice Goff marked a record of speed in criminal procedure.

PARISIANS AFTER SAVAGE POLICE DOGS

Chief of Police Canady received a communication from a party in Paris, France, Thursday morning making inquiries about the breed of dogs that are found in this locality. Making special reference to the possibility of obtaining "german shepherd" dogs in this vicinity. These dogs are nearly extinct and have become as "trailers," making them invaluable as police dogs.

The police departments of Paris and Berlin have been using these dogs for some time with great success. Each officer in the "bad districts" is given one of these dogs for his own individual care and use, and so great becomes the attachment of the dogs for the owners that on several occasions they have been found to give up their life for their owners.

A large kennel, devoted to the exclusive breeding of these dogs is located in Greenwich, Conn., but the output of pups from these kennels falls far short of meeting the demand for them. The dogs are valued at from $75 to $100 and from the demand for them it appears as if it would be a profitable business for some one to raise these "hounds."—Xenia Gazette.

NEW METHOD OF FIGHTING THE FLY

Now is the time to inaugurate a "Swat the Fly Campaign." The possibilities of the fly in spreading filth and carrying disease is becoming so well recognized that many Ohio communities will devote serious attention to the problem this summer.

A novel feature for a fly swatting campaign is reported in the April journal of the Ohio State Medical association. Members of the city federation of woman's clubs of Coshocton who have inaugurated a swatting campaign will circulate small cards of protest among the women of their city, through which these women are to cause their grocers to be more careful in protecting them from infection by flies.

The blank card will read as follows:

"Flies carry unnamed filth to food. I counted.....flies in your place of business.

Date.....

Signed.....

A customer.

By this means these club women will enlist every grocer in the city as an active swatter. The dealers can hardly refuse to heed the protest of their customers. In addition the Coshocton club women will pay school children 10 cents per hundred for swatting flies and they have ordered patent fly traps for general distribution throughout the city.

VILLA WITH HIS FRIEND FIERRO, OFFICIALLY DECLARED BENTON'S SLAYER

El Paso, Texas, April 13.—William Benton, the British subject for whose death Pancho Villa is held responsible, was shot to death by Major Rudolfo Fierro, a member of Villa's staff, and the tragedy was enacted at Samalyuca, a station on the Mexican Central railroad between Juarez and Chihuahua. This is the finding of the Carranza commission appointed to investigate the death of the Scotch ranch owner, made unofficially to General Carranza. The official report will be made when Villa returns to Chihuahua from the Torreon battle. The commission found that no court martial had been held by Villa, that Benton was not put to death in Juarez and was not killed in Villa's office and that the whole story of the court martial and execution and of the official report of the court martial were fabrications manufactured on the spur of the moment. Fierro is a warm personal friend and admirer of Villa. The illustration shows them together in Chihuahua, plucking feathers from a fighting cock to wear in honor of a victory over Federal troops.
